Littlestown Town Council Reports $122,890 Balance; Adopt Budget Of $151,176

The Littlestown borough council Tuesday evening tentatively adopted an over-all budget of $151,176.24 for 1964, reapportioned Leroy H. Winebrenner borough engineer and agreed to support the Alpha Fire Company building and remodeling program. Council met in the borough offices with the entire membership present. President Howard Myers presided.

A budget of $55,252.25 was set for general government, $37,577 for the water department and $29,600 for the sewer department. The unappropriated balances in the respective departments are $36,986.04 in the general fund, $24,516.66 in the water fund and $31,707.33 in the sewer fund.

The budget is based on the 1963 tax rate of 18 mills of $1,838,630 valuation. It will be on display in the borough offices for public inspection.

BOOST SALARIES

Included in the new budget, which will be adopted at the February meeting, are salary increases for borough police and two employees. Council approved a $200 raise each for Police Chief Edward T. Kowalczyk and Patrolman John G. Hemler and borough employees Joseph H. Redding and Glenn E. Ohler. The wage rate for Robert B. Crouse was increased five cents an hour to $1.30 and special police were voted a 10-cent-an-hour increase to $1.35. The emergency answering service will be paid $1 a hour.

President Myers appointed Robert Gouker and Robert Kozt to interview applicants for the position of disposal plant operator. No salary was set by council for the position.

BUDGET ITEMS

Other items in the proposed budget include: $13,201.25 for salaries and operating expenses in general government; $11,800 for police service and equipment; $5,200 for fire department salaries and equipment; and $21,000 for street maintenance and construction. The budget provides $1,225 for recreation expenditures.

President Myers said that a dollar-breakdown of the budget shows that general government takes 24 cents of each tax dollar; 31 cents for protection to persons and property; 1 1/2 cents for health and sanitation; 38 cents for highways; two cents for recreation; and 3 1/2 cents for miscellaneous expenses.

Council voted to give $5,000 to the Alpha Fire Company for its building program estimated at approximately $22,000, after representatives, led by Monroe Morelock, appeared before council with rough drawings of the proposed building program. The firemen were told that an additional contribution could be made in 1965 if needed. The fire company (Continued On Page 4)

R. L. SLUSSER, WORLD WAR I VETERAN, DIES

Raymond L. Slusser, 76, died Tuesday evening at 6:40 o'clock at his home, Gardners R. 2. He had been in failing health for a number of years.

A son of the late Charles F. and Cora A. (Starnes) Slusser, he was a carpenter, and was a veteran of World War I, having served in the Supply Co. of the 56th Infantry.

He was a member of the Newville American Legion post, the Shippensburg FFW post, the Shippensburg Barracks of World War I Veterans and the Mt. Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church, Goodyear.

Surviving are his wife, the former Blanche M. Routzahn; a daughter, Mrs. Ralph Kennedy, Camp Hill; a granddaughter, Shirley Kennedy, Camp Hill; a sister, Miss Grace E. Slusser, Gardners R. 2, and three brothers, Roy G. Slusser, Gardners R. 2; Dennis W. Slusser, Goodyear; and Vernon C. Slusser, Mt. Holly Springs Mounted Route.

Funeral services Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Dugan Funeral Home, Bendersville, with the Rev. Douglas Y. Boden officiating. Interment in the Goodyear Cemetery. Friends may call Thursday evening after 7 o'clock at the funeral home in Bendersville.

Plan Special Program For L-town Council

Minutes of the first council meeting held in Littlestown 100 years ago will highlight a special program February 25 when the Littlestown borough council observes the centennial of the founding of Littlestown. The February meeting falls on the same date council was formed in 1864.

The public is invited to attend the informal commemorative session to be held in the Community Center at 7 o'clock February 25. Councilman Samuel H. Higginbotham, a member of the Littlestown Centennial Commission, said that members of his group will attend in an effort to obtain material for staging the centennial program in 1965.

Secretary-Manager Roger Keeler said that a historical paper taken from old minutes by Lynn Keeler, now a student at Penn State University, will be read at the meeting. Council agreed to delay the business session to provide a 30-minute commemorative program.

M'DERMITT IS RE-ELECTED BY RIDING CLUB

Leo H. McDermitt, Gettysburg R. 5, was re-elected president of the Gettysburg Riding Club at its annual dinner meeting held in the Elks Club, York St., Tuesday evening.

Other officers named at the session included Charles W. Jacobs, vice president; LeRoy H. Winebrenner, secretary; and Mrs. Joseph Krug, treasurer. Named as directors were Lawrence H. Eckert, John Schroll and Attorney Charles Wolf.

President McDermitt outlined activities of the club during the last year including monthly rides, special spring and fall rides, the annual horse show, and the junior horse show held for the first time last summer, for youths 18 and under.

Because of the success of the initial junior horse show, preliminary plans have been made to conduct a similar show again this year, President McDermitt said.

He urged the organization to increase its support of youth activities especially the Adams County 4-H Light Horse and Pony Club, observing that the work among youth "has been among the most pleasant of our activities."

Ray M. Hoffman, treasurer for the 1963 horse show, reported profit from the show of $1,369.65. Previously the first $1,000 in profits had been divided with $500 going to the Warner Hospital and $500 to the Riding Club. The club voted to divide the remaining $369.65 in this fashion: $180 for the hospital, $180 for the riding club and $9.65 went back into the fund for the 1964 horse show bringing that fund to $109.65.

Calls Republican Meeting Tonight

H. Earl Pitzer, chairman of the Adams County Republican Committee, has called a meeting of all committeemen, members of the Council of Republican Women, Young Republican Club and the executive, advisory and action committees this evening at 8 o'clock in the Cash-town Fire Hall. Among the items to be discussed will be the "petitioning of candidates for office registration," the Lincoln Day dinner, etc. Refreshments will be served. All Republicans are invited to attend.

ON HONOR ROLL

The name of Charles Vial, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vial, York St., was omitted from the list of honor roll students at the Shippensburg State College published earlier this week. There were nine others from this county on the dean's honor list for the first term.

March Of Dimes Dance On Saturday

With all proceeds to go to the Adams County March of Dimes, the annual charity ball will be held Saturday evening in the Hotel Gettysburg dining room. Dancing will begin at 9 p.m. with music by the Mary Howe Trio.

The general admission charge will be $2 per person. Sponsors' tickets will be honored and will admit two. Tickets can be purchased from Mrs. J. E. Codori, 44 York St., or from committee members in various communities. Free table reservations may be made by calling the hotel.

The National Foundation now concerns itself not only with polio patients but with birth defects and arthritis.

Mrs. Codori has asked county motorists who received the coin cards through the mail to return them to her at their first opportunity.

URGES WOMEN TO FILL PUBLIC SERVICE POSTS

"We need more women interested in public service, more women school directors, more women in politics and more women in county, state and federal government," Mrs. Donald Myers, executive director of public assistance in Adams County, told members of the Gettysburg Sophtist Club at a dinner and business meeting Tuesday evening at the Peace Light Inn.

Her topic was "Women in Community Service" and she urged women, when asked to serve at various levels of public service, to accept the assignment as an opportunity.

Thirty-three members of the club attended with the president, Mrs. H. W. Baker, presiding at the business meeting and Mrs. S. A. Burton serving as toastmistress as chairman of the public objectives committee which was in charge of the program.

CITES RESPONSIBILITIES

Mrs. Burton's committee includes Mrs. Henry T. Braem, Mrs. Myers and Mrs. Frederic Griest and they were assisted by Miss Evelyn Althoff, Littlestown; Miss Jane Stallsmith and Miss Dorothy Curtis. The invocation was given by Mrs. Braem and Mrs. Baker complimented the club on having all but two members present for the session which had been postponed previously because of bad weather.

Mrs. Burton introduced Mrs. (Continued On Page 8)

Marty McSherry Dies This Noon

Martin J. "Marty" McSherry, 73, of 39 W. Middle St., died this afternoon at 12:08 o'clock at the Warner Hospital.

He was admitted to the hospital January 2 following a stroke.

The deceased was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William D. McSherry. Many years ago he was manager of the Lincolnway Theater which was located on York St.

Among his survivors are a sister, Miss Anna C. McSherry, with whom he resided, and a son, Edwin, Harrisburg. The deceased was a one-time telegraph operator. He was a member of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church.

U.S. Fires World's Heaviest Satellite Into Orbit Today And Surpasses Russia In Race For Space Rocket Supremacy

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—A Saturn 1 super rocket propelled the world's heaviest satellite into orbit today and presumably vaulted the United States over Russia in the race for space rocket supremacy.

The mighty rocket, 164 feet tall and weighing 562 tons, flooded its launching pad with a rush of flame and sent a thunderous shock wave rolling across Cape Kennedy as it blasted off at 11:25 a.m., Eastern Standard Time, on its first full-scale test flight.

METAL AND SAND

Slightly more than 10 minutes later, the Saturn 1—its second stage live for the first time—ejected into orbit a mammoth 94-foot-long satellite weighing 37,700 pounds, nearly three times heavier than the Soviet

PARTY LINE TIE LEAVES CLERK POSITION OPEN

Adams County's two Democratic commissioners, Atlee Rebert and Harrison Fair, Tuesday afternoon resumed their search for a chief clerk for the county board of commissioners.

For a brief period Tuesday it appeared that the search had ended, but two-to-two tie in salary board votes led former Prothonotary Herbert W. Miller, who had been urged to become chief clerk, to decide that he could not accept the position.

The search was becoming urgent because present commissioners' clerk, Jacob G. Appler's resignation to accept a position with the Keystone Ridgeway Co. becomes effective Saturday. The commissioners want the new clerk on hand to learn about the work of the office before Appler leaves.

ALLISON GOT $5,400

Appler has been receiving $5,900 a year, of which $5,200 was his salary as clerk to the commissioners and $600 as chief assessor.

Clyde Allison who had originally been named as chief clerk to succeed Appler had been granted a $5,600 salary. After serving several days, Allison asked to be relieved. He was given a post in the assessor's office.

The Democratic commissioners had apparently assumed the $5,600 figure was the pay to be given the chief clerk and urged Miller to accept it at that price.

DISAGREE ON SALARY

LIONS OUTLINE TALENT SHOW AT CASHTOWN

Plans for the third annual talent show of the Cashtown Lions Club were outlined Tuesday evening at the meeting of the club in the Orrtanna Methodist Church.

Rev. Henry Early, chairman for the event, announced the show will be held April 4. Auditions for contestants will be held March 20. A rehearsal will be held March 30. Contestants may register now by calling Harry Bieseker at 334-3921 or 334-3031, Rev. Mr. Early said.

Three members, R. Irvin Keiser, Elliott Schlosser and Donald Carver, were presented by President Donald Hershey with District 14-C Lions banners for sponsoring new members.

STUDENT OF MONTH

Miss Stephanie Tauscher, Biglerville R-2, was introduced by Miss Irene Etter, of the Gettysburg High School faculty, for the "student of the month" award given by the Cashtown Lions. Miss Tauscher is a member of the Girls' Athletic Association, a representative on the Student Council, a member of the Cannon-Aid staff and president of the Senior class. She is planning to attend the Temple University School of Nursing upon graduation from high school. She was presented with a "Certificate of Achievement" from the Cashtown Lions by Hobart Benchoff, principal of the Franklin Twp. schools.

FCC Chairman

Chairman E. William Henry of the Federal Communications Commission says it's time for constructive criticism to replace harsh indictment of American television and radio.

The 34-year-old Tennesseean said in an interview that television and radio are "always aiming at the masses but they're underestimating the tastes of the masses." He added, "There's room for a great deal of improvement." (AP Wirephoto)

PARC UNIT IS GIVEN PLAQUE FOR ITS HELP

Occupational Services, Inc., Chambersburg, where seven Adams Countyans are employed daily in a sheltered workshop program, presented the Adams County unit of the Pennsylvania Association for Retarded Children with a plaque here Tuesday evening in recognition of its financial contributions to the Chambersburg project.

The presentation was made by Richard Nye, director of the Chambersburg operation, at the January meeting of the county unit at the Day Care Center on E. High St. President Evers Rinehart presided.

Guest speaker was Luther Beers, Carlisle, who has been president for three years of the Cumberland County unit of the PARC and is chairman of the state vocational habilitation and adult service committee. His subject was "Starting and Operating Sheltered Workshops."

He discussed proposed plans for vocational habilitation stations in the state. Present sheltered workshops are conducted for training and employment, he pointed out, and said that under future plans there will be specialized training centers established in regions of the state with the sheltered employment centers to be set up in each county. He discussed the problems, costs and procedures involved and estimated the cost for the establishment of a sheltered employment center at $25,000.

During a business session plans were advanced for a rummage and bake sale to be held March 7 in the GAR rooms on E. Middle St. and further arrangements were discussed for a week of day camping for Day Care Center youngsters this summer.

The county unit's next meeting will be held in March.

U.S. Jet Trainer Is Shot Down By Reds Who Charge Violation; Three Are Killed

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union said today a U.S. Air Force plane missing in East Germany was shot down by a Communist fighter plane and all three men aboard were killed.

The mystery of the fate of the plane and its crew was dispelled in a Soviet protest note on the incident handed to U.S. Ambassador Foy Kohler.

The Soviet announcement said the plane "did not react" to warning fire from a Soviet fighter plane in the area of Weimar.

"Therefore, the Soviet fighter had to take measures in compliance with air defense instructions which are well known to the American command," a Soviet note said.

"As a result, the intruder plane crashed near Vogelsberg village, 20 kilometers (12 miles) northeast of Erfurt."

As distributed by Tass, the Soviet note said:

"The Soviet government cannot regard this intrusion otherwise than as a gross provocation by the American military authorities, aimed at aggravating the situation in central Europe."

Tass said the Soviet Union had warned repeatedly that resolute steps would be taken against the intrusion of military aircraft into the air space of Communist East Germany.

"The Soviet government," the note added, "deems it necessary to stress that all responsibility for this regrettable incident rests with the authorities of the United States."

CHARGE KRESS WITH MURDER OF HAGERMAN

Clarence H. Kress, 43, Hanover R. 3, was charged Tuesday afternoon before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder with "feloniously and wilfully" murdering Charles Henry Hagerman, 61, McSherrystown tavern owner.

The charge, signed by Cpl. George J. Evanko of the local state police, alleges that Kress at 11:30 p.m. January 27 in the Buzz Inn, McSherrystown, did "unlawfully, feloniously, willfully and with malice aforethought kill and murder" Hagerman, his former employer and owner of the Buzz Inn taproom.

Justice Snyder explained to Kress after reading the charge to him, that the reading constituted only the arraignment on the charge, and that a hearing will be held later.

TO SEEK ATTORNEY

He asked Kress if he had secured an attorney. When Kress, unemployed and father of 12, said he had no funds to secure an attorney for his defense, Justice Snyder informed him that he should write a letter to District Attorney Gerald Walmer explaining his poverty prevented him from obtaining counsel and asking the court to appoint an attorney to represent him.

Walmer said that on receipt of the letter he would submit it to the court in order to secure an attorney for the Hanover area man. Kress promised to write the letter immediately.

Agreement was reached that the hearing will not be held until after the appointment of counsel for Kress.

Kress is alleged to have walked into the Buzz Inn Monday night carrying a shotgun originally owned by Hagerman.

AWAITED ARREST

Kress is reported to have told Hagerman he was returning his shotgun and ordered a beer. A little later he reportedly fired the shotgun, with the pellets going into Hagerman's heart, killing him instantly. Kress then remained at the bar until police arrived. Immediately after the shooting he permitted other men who were in the bar at the time to phone for a physician and a priest.

Retired Engineer Addresses Club

E. W. Baldwin, New Oxford, retired civil engineer, told members of the Gettysburg-Adams Torch Club Tuesday evening that "the construction of the Panama Canal eclipsed the building of the Chinese Wall."

Baldwin spent five years as an engineer in the Canal Zone following his graduation from Michigan State University in 1911 and supervised the construction of lock spillways for the canal.

The club met in Trinity United Church of Christ, E. High St., with Atty. John A. MacPhail presiding.

Baldwin, who received several awards from the U.S. government for his engineering skills in various parts of the world, described the construction of Gatun Lake in the Panama Canal Zone and said that a mound of shale was removed to build the lake in the center of the 52-mile waterway.

TWO ESCAPEES ARE CAPTURED AFTER 7 HOURS

Two trustees escaped from the Adams County jail Tuesday afternoon and were captured about seven hours later in a shed near Orrtanna.

Sheriff Dawson Miller said Dale Daywalt, 39, and Joseph Lee Brown, 24, both of Fayetteville R. 2, were engaged in their usual duties in the kitchen of the jail Tuesday about 5:30 o'clock.

They were washing the supper dishes and cleaning the kitchen when the sheriff was called to his office adjoining the kitchen.

Because both men were trusted and the sheriff was only a few feet away no guard was called to watch the two. They finished the cleaning and then walked out the kitchen door while the sheriff was in his office. When he returned to the kitchen at about 6:30 o'clock he discovered the two had fled.

CALL LARGE POSSE

Sheriff's deputies and state police were summoned first to begin the search. Later 24 members of the Adams County Civilian Band Radio Club headed by Vice President Charles Roche, of New Oxford, and members of the Waynesboro Civilian Band Radio Club joined the search.

Miller said one of the radio operators spotted the fugitives in the Orrtanna section and they were captured at 1 o'clock this morning.

After leaving the jail the two prisoners went across the fields to the Western Maryland Railroad and followed the tracks to Orrtanna.

There they hid in a shed on the property of a brother of Brown.

Deputy Sheriffs Guy Seifert, Clair Sanders and Oliver H. Sanders rushed to the Orrtanna area when the men had been sighted. Seifert had both Citizens band and Sheriff's band radio equipment in his car and thus served to coordinate the search between the two groups.

Brown's brother said he had not seen the men. He joined in a search. At the shed he found the door hook unlatched. He said "someone must be in there because I left it latched."

Brown had been in jail since November awaiting action on a surety of the peace charge on the February term of court. Daywalt had been sentenced October 19 on a receiving stolen good charge. He had been given a suspended sentence on that charge but his parole on another charge had been revoked and he was returned to jail to serve the remaining time of a nine to 18-month sentence on an arson charge to which he had been originally sentenced September 1, 1962.

CHILDREN WILL SHARE PART OF KLUNK ESTATE

A number of wills have been entered for probate in the register and recorder's office.

The will of Felix J. Klunk, Conewago Twp., who died January 20 in the Hanover Hospital at the age of 82, lists a son, Lewis J. Klunk, Hanover R. 4, as executor of the $50,000 estate. The will bequeaths $20,000 and a property on the McSherrystown-Gettysburg Rd. to the widow, and provides that the son, Lewis Klunk, may purchase the 182-acre home farm for $40,000. In the event he does not purchase it at that price, it is to be sold. After the widow's bequest and expenses are paid, the remainder of the estate is divided among the children.

The will of Grace M. Boyer, York Springs, who died January 18 at the age of 84 at York Springs, lists a son Russell W. Boyer, Scranton, as executor of the $5,500 estate. The husband of the deceased is given living privileges at the home. After his death or remarriage the estate is to be divided among the three children.

A bequest of $1,000 to the Tressler Memorial Lutheran Church, Loysville, is contained in the will of J. Grover C. Knipple, Germany Twp., who died January 19 at the age of 75. A sister Elva Kindig, Littlestown R. 2, is executrix of the will and recipient of the remainder "in excess of $10,000" estate after the $1,000 bequest and payment of other debts. Grace Coulson is bequeathed two tables.

FARMERS GET $83,924 FOR CONSERVATION

The U. S. government provided $83,924 to Adams County farmers during 1963 to help them carry out conservation programs designed to "protect the resources we will need in the future."

The county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee, comprised of George W. Stock, New Oxford R. 2, chairman; Stewart V. Walker, New Oxford R. 1, vice chairman, and George Pecher, Fairfield R. 2, regular member, in issuing the report of the amount of federal aid expended for Adams County farm conservation projects stated:

The agricultural conservation program is a partnership between farmers and the general public. Through it the public shares with farmers the cost of conserving our soil, water and woodlands. These resources are vital to each of us and are essential to the health and welfare of coming generations. The nation recognizes that we must protect and conserve now the resources we will need in the future. Yet farm and ranch resources can be conserved only by the farmers who use them. Through ACP the government on behalf of all the people joins with farmers to insure that the needed conservation measures will be carried out adequately and in time. The results benefit the entire nation."

AIDED 352 FARMS

The ASC statement revealed that the $83,924 aid in conservation practices went to 352 farms in the county. An additional $4,166 was transferred to the Soil Conservation Service to help pay the costs of technical services provided by the SCS technicians. Thus the total expended in the county was $88,110.

Of the total $88,526, went to 264 farms to help purchase 10,133 tons of lime to permit use of soil conserving crops on 6,365 acres.

A total of $22,410 went to 75 farms for improving permanent cover by fertilization on 2,159 acres; $6,436 went to 54 farms for seeding permanent cover for soil protection on 725 acres. $1,730 went to 45 farms for sowing winter cover for protection from erosion on 970 acres.

BREAKDOWN GIVEN

A total of $13,353 went to 39 farms for installing tile drainage systems for 874 acres; $2,447 went to 21 farms for contour and field strip cropping of 436 acres, $770 went to five farms for 53 acres of clearing pastureland for improvement of protective cover; $1,905 went to five farms for installation of livestock water ponds.

The sum of $274 was provided to seven farms where 2,500 linear feet of diversion terraces were installed; $4,265 went to 22 farms for open drainage systems to dispose of excess water on 139 acres of land, $126 went to two farms for planting 12 acres of forest trees and $80 went to one farm for improving a stand of forest trees on two acres.

The ASC figures show 70.2 per cent of the outlay of $61,673 went for the lime, fertilizer, seeding and clearing of land to establish or improve protective cover, $21,064, or 24.8 per cent of the subsidies went for permanent construction including the underground tile, open drainage, ponds, terraces, etc., and 2 per cent of the cost, or $186 went for forestry practices.

SPECIAL MASS

At the request of the Parish Council of the NCCW a Mass will be offered Saturday morning at 7:30 o'clock in St. Mary's Catholic Church, Fairfield, for the intention of Bishop Joseph T. Daley, newly-ordained auxiliary bishop of Harrisburg. Rev. John McNulty, pastor, will celebrate the Mass and NCCW members will attend in a body.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Guise, 169 N. Stratton St., announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Louise, to A/C Nym B. Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Patterson, Cortez, Colo.

Miss Guise is a graduate of Gettysburg High School in 1956 and of Marion College, Marion, Va., in 1958. Airman Patterson was graduated from Montezuma County High School, Cortez, Colo., in 1957. Miss Guise is employed by the Civil Engineering Squadron, Headquarters Sixteenth Air Force, Torrejon Air Base, Spain. Airman Patterson is assigned to the 21st Weather Squadron, same installation, as an editing specialist.

A March wedding is planned, a military ceremony, at the Torrejon Air Base Chapel in Spain. The bride's parents will attend the ceremony.

MISS KIME

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn F. Kime, Gardners, R. 1, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Sheila Faye Kime, to Charles C. Van Arsdale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Van Arsdale Sr., Biglerville, R. 2.

Miss Kime is a 1962 graduate of Biglerville High School and is attending Central Pennsylvania Business College, Harrisburg. Mr. Van Arsdale is a 1960 graduate of Somerville High School, Somerville, N. J., and is employed in dairy farming with his father.

No date has been set for the wedding.

PARENTS ARE SCOUT GUESTS

Members of Girl Scout Troops 745 and 742, sponsored by St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church, held a joint parents' night program Tuesday evening in Xavier Hall.

Mrs. John Kopheimer served as master of ceremonies for the program which opened with the forwarding of the colors carried by Deborah Redding, Patricia Saylor, Susan Steinour, Carol Weishaar and Karen Steinour.

Mrs. Herman Frasch conducted the fly-up ceremony at which the former Brownies were presented with wings and Girl Scout pins. They included Carolyn Ambrose, Louise Cole, Mary Crushong, Susan Cool, Kathleen Gibbons, Caroline Frasch, Deborah Hess, Ann Johnson, Theresa Kerrigan, Donna Kessler, Peggy Kress, Marion Lovett, Becky Ritter, Deborah Redding, Susan Roth, Sharon Wolo and Barbara Tusling.

MENNONITES PLAN SPECIAL THANK SERVICE

A special Praise and Thanksgiving Service will be held at the Bethel Mennonite Church, Gettysburg-Biglerville Rd., Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The service will include a mortgage burning ceremony commemorating the recent liquidation of the building debt.

The devotional period will be in charge of Richard E. Shaffer, Sunday School Superintendent. Rev. John H. Rudy, pastor of the church, will preach the sermon and lead in a prayer of thanksgiving. J. Forrest Kanagy, building committee chairman, will give the history of the building program and be responsible for burning the mortgage.

The present building was dedicated in December 1956. It consists mainly of a sanctuary seating 200 with an educational wing. The architect was Weldon Bender, Camp Hill, and the contractor was Reisinger Bros., Inc., Carlisle. The pastor during the building program was the Rev. Willis L. Breckbill, now serving in Canton, Ohio. Approximate cost was $55,000.

The Bethel Congregation was organized in 1839 under the Ohio and Eastern Mennonite Conference, a district conference of Mennonite General Conference. The original place of worship was in Mummaburg. Active church members total 43 with a Sunday School enrollment of 92. Two Bethel families are presently engaged in foreign mission work: The Glenn Musselmans in Brazil and the Charles Shens in Japan. Mummaburg. Active church members.

4 BOY SCOUTS ARE ADVANCED TO STAR RANK

Four Boy Scouts were advanced to Star rank at a board of review held by the Black Walnut Boy Scout District Tuesday night at the West St. Branch of the Gettysburg National Bank.

District Advancement Chairman Merville Zinn said the four were Stanley Gochenour, of Troop 72 and Donald Shriver, Michael Myers and Joseph Dubbs, of Troop 79.

The board of review conducted by Zinn, Paul Arnsberger and Earl B. Constable was held preceding the regular Black Walnut District Round Table at the bank.

PLAN FINANCE DRIVE
More than 50 attended the round table session at which District Chairman Melvin Worley, Scout Field Executive Stanley C. Rogers, Training Chairman Richard Greenholt and District Explorer Commissioner Stanley Frock gave reports.

Plans were outlined for the annual finance drive to be held by the district February 6. Those attending were urged to assist in the campaign which will open with a dinner meeting at the C. H. Musselman Co. cafeteria at Biglerville February 6.

Plans were outlined for Boy Scout Week February 7 to 13 with window displays to be judged February 8 by District Commissioner Crosby N. Hartzell, Scout Executive Rogers, Commissioner Charles Holtz and activities chairman Charles Hollinger.

Troop, post and pack leaders and committeemen were urged to attend the University of Scouting scheduled to start February 18 at New Oxford.

Capt. M. Valerius of the Gettysburg College ROTC, who taught survival training for the Army in Germany, outlined details of "Winter Camping and Survival."

Clara Miller To Study In Spain

Miss Clara E. Miller, daughter of former Prothonotary and Mrs. Herbert W. Miller, Biglerville R. 1, a liberal arts student at the Pennsylvania State University, will be among 110 PSU students who will study in Europe during the spring term, according to an announcement today by Dr. Dagobert de Levie, who directs the Study Abroad program at Penn State.

Members of the group, chosen from among more than 400 applicants for the program, will be enrolled this year at four European universities.

Miss Miller will be among 31 students assigned to the University of Salamanca, Salamanca, Spain. Forty will go to the University of Strasbourg in Strasbourg, France; 20 to the University of Cologne in Germany and 20 to the Architectural Association School of Architecture in London.

The Study Abroad program was instituted at Penn State three years ago. To qualify, students must have an above-average academic record and at least two years of study of a language. They receive regular credit at Penn State for their work abroad. Students selected for the '64 program will leave March 31 for their European assignments.

TEACHERS PLEDGE

The New Oxford area chapter of the Pennsylvania State Education Association has pledged to purchase $800 worth of debentures being sold by the New Oxford Industrial Development Corporation.

Most successful Big Ten conversions on one game last year were five. Dave Fronek of Wisconsin made five extra points against Purdue, and so did Jim Plankenhorn of Illinois.

announced Deputy District Governor William Lay, Spring Grove, is a candidate for district governor for Region 1, Zone B.

The historical committee, Col. Corvan Bryan, Col. Thomas Allen and Walter Keeney, are in charge of the program. Col. Bryan introduced Miss Janet Powers of the Gettysburg College faculty.

TEACHER SPEAKS

Miss Powers, who is a graduate of Bucknell and has a masters degree from the University of Michigan, recently returned from a year in Pakistan as a Rotary Fellow.

She wore the Pakistan national dress at Tuesday's meeting and explained details of the viewpoint and living standards of the Pakistani people. Coming into existence in 1947, Pakistan became a dictatorship in 1952. She described the development of industry there to make products that can be used by the people of Pakistan and held that the "Peace Corps is well liked in Pakistan because the members mix in with the people, eat the same food, wear the same clothes and lives in the same type of homes." She reported two riots occurring while she was there, one when America gave aid to India and the second based on student problems.

Eddie Crawford is in his second campaign as basketball coach at the University of Mississippi. Last year's team had a 7-17 record.

MITCH MILLER, JOEY BISHOP SHOWS TO DIE

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP)—NBC has announced its 1964-65 television schedule. CBS will make its announcement within a few days. ABC, will have to follow suit soon.

NBC's unexpectedly early announcement concerned only new shows. The television networks never, or almost never, announce program deaths. Ten new programs — more than a third of its evening programming — will be presented and some remaining programs put in new time periods.

To make room for the new in September or October, a number of current shows must depart. Among those which, the announcement indicated, will disappear after summer reruns are "Sing Along With Mitch," "The 11th Hour," "The Joey Bishop Show," and "Show of the Week."

OTHER DISCARDS

Discarded after one short season are "The Bill Dana Show," "Grindl," "The Richard Boone Show," "Espionage," "Temple Houston," and "The Lieutenant."

On two evenings NBC proposes to fill the time with only two shows between 7:30 and 11. It plans six hours a week of feature length films—two hours of old movies on Monday and Saturday nights and also a two-hour feature anthology series on Wednesday nights. One new 90-minute series, "90 Bristol Court" will consist of three related stories and will be followed by a two-hour movie.

Other new shows in the schedule are an adventure series called "The Rogues," costarring David Niven, Charles Boyer and Gig Young; "Solo," an action adventure series created by Ian Fleming, "The 13th Gate," a science fiction effort. Five half-hour comedies will be slipped into the schedule here and there. A variety hour on Tuesday night is expected to star either Andy Williams or Joey Bishop.

SULLIVAN EXPANDS

At CBS, the big excitement is that Ed Sullivan will expand his Sunday night hour to 90 minutes starting April 5. The network insists this is a permanent change and not a temporary expedient to plug half of the hole left by the departure of Judy Garland. ABC's bright new "Hollywood Palace" is a television vaudeville show that gives comedians a chance to be really funny and singers enough time to sing more than one chorus. It is Sullivan's first real competition in years and he may truly welcome a chance to expand his show.

The fate of "East Side, West Side" finally was decided. It had been hanging by a thread and CBS cut it before the audience even had a chance to sample a desperate 11th-hour change in format.

Recommended tonight: "The Danny Thomas Show," CBS, 10-11 EST.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Bachmans Home From College Leave: Dr. and Mrs. Albert Bachman and sons, Albert Eric and Edwin, North Stratton street, arrived in New York on the S.S. "Isle de France" last week from a sabbatical leave from Gettysburg College of approximately six months, most of which was spent studying in France. Mrs. Bachman and two sons visited Mrs. Bachman's brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. De Waldkirch, in Geneva, Switzerland, while Dr. Bachman was studying in Paris. They also spent some time traveling in France, Switzerland, Italy and Germany. The Bachmans will reside with Prof. and Mrs. Herbert G. Hamme until February 1 when they will return to their residence at 325 North Stratton street.

St. James Players Choose Officers: The results of the annual organization meeting held this week by the St. James Players has been announced. Miss Beatrice Pfeffer is president; Mrs. Furney, vice president; Edna Zimm, secretary; and Mrs. C. Russell Gilbert, treasurer. The program for 1939 was presented and committees were appointed and arrangements made for the first production "The Lost Key" by Elliot Field.

St. James Class Holds Annual Supper: The members of Class No. 43 of St. James Lutheran Church, of which Miss Margaret Howard is teacher, held their annual turkey supper in the basement of the church Tuesday evening with 32 members present and Mrs. Spencer August and Mrs. Luther Gotwalt as additional guests. Miss Howard acted as toastmaster. Mrs. Gotwalt spoke on "Home Life in India." Mrs. August also gave a short talk, challenging the members to make use of the present time for Christian work. Mrs. Blair Rishell, president of the class, gave the welcome. The committee in charge comprised Mrs. Cleason Cromer, and Mrs. Harvey White, with Mrs. Donald Munshour, Mrs. Irene Shanbrook and Mrs. Edgar Weaner as associate helpers.

Heads Veteran Firemen: George A. McClellan, a former president of the Adams county firemen's association, was elected president of the Veteran Firemen's Club of Gettysburg at the group's annual banquet Thursday evening at Fidler's Restaurant in Biglerville. He succeeds C. Ray Rupp, first president of the club, who presided over the informal program. The eleven original members of the club, charter members of the Gettysburg fire company; 22 new members who were elected recently on the basis of 15 years of service with the local fire company, and Fire Chief James A. Aumen and Asst. Chief Paul E. Oyster attended the affair. After advancing Mr. McClellan to the presidency, the veteran firemen then elected Charles E. Zeigler as the new vice president and re-elected Aumen, now president of the local company, as the club's secretary-treasurer. Three new members were elected at the banquet. They were former chief William G. Weaver, John E. Storm and W. Preston Hull. The club voted that each year the vice president shall be advanced to the presidency. It also was decided that the group shall gather twice annually during a summer outing in the mountains at the Firemen's Retreat to the annual January banquet.

Today's Talk

ON EARNING

The thing that is appreciated is the thing that has been earned. Everything that is earned leaves its mark of merit upon character. So, though a fortune may be passed on to those who have not earned it, the character of the one who did not earn it — only its suggested qualities.

Even the daily meal that is earned becomes a part of the structure of one's body, thus as well feeding the mind. People who learn the value of compensation. Losses become gains. All along something new is being created. Even the rest at night is the more appreciated if it has earned its way.

An education that is earned is usually a sound one, and far more practical than the one that someone else has earned for one. And what I mean by an education is not that one, necessarily, that can be seen within the walls of an educational institution. Nature is a university — where everything is taught and where more knowledge is buried than is ever exhibited in any school or college.

We have to earn peace of mind, bodily comfort and spiritual satisfaction. No one can earn these for us. Nor can they be adequately inherited.

Earned things stay with us, also. Even the money spent to gain these things is not money that is gone. Its use stays. Earners are the substantial people of the world. Earning gains for one self-respect, a confidence and a satisfaction in the affairs of life.

Anything that you do not earn is apt to leave you early — and forever! But the substance and the experience of all earning stays. It enters character, molding and mellowing every phase of life. It isn't the amount you earn but what you earn that counts.

Money used can only be useful as it is put to some constructive use either in creating something of benefit to the many or in enriching the mind so that it can pass on ideas and formulas for a better exacting of the duties and privileges of life.

Many think that what they earn is in small proportion to that which is earned through them for the one who gives them the opportunity to earn. A person always earns most for himself. A fact that should not be forgotten.

Do not be swayed by every breeze,
To every impulse do not bend,
Who gains his purpose by degree
Holds what he wins unto the end.

'Tis better patiently to climb
And stand sure-footed at the crest
Than to evade the price of time
And at the last be disappointed.

Stick to your job and learn it well,
Of change for petty gain beware;

Do not a lifelong glory sell
For one brief year of morning's fair.

If you are given a task to do
Keep this in mind from day to day,
Success is just as close to you
As to some teller far away.

The future is a hidden book.
The trout, deceived by gaudy flies
Is caught upon the angler's hook.

So men from this to that will race
Grasping at every lure they see,
But those who walk at slower pace
Make friends with opportunity.

Stick to your job what's o'er it be;
The better post is near at hand,
In wisdom lies your destiny;

Plan Family Night And Awards Court

Dates for Boy Scout Week affairs were set at the meeting of Boy Scout Troop No. 84 on Monday evening at the Community Center. The annual Court of Awards and Family Night has been scheduled for Monday, February 17. The place and other details will be announced later. The Boy Scouts, Cub Pack 84 and Explorer Post 84 will attend the 10:30 a.m. worship service in Centenary Methodist Church on Sunday, February 9. The group will meet at 10:15 a.m. at the Community Center. The boys will go swimming at the YMCA in York on Saturday, February 8, leaving at 4 p.m. from the Community Center.

Gary Wolf and Donald Rinehart were passed for the rank of second class Scout by a board of review consisting of Charles E. Ritter, Black Walnut District official; John R. Rudisill, assistant Scoutmaster, and L. D. Snyder, committeeman. Adult leaders in attendance were Scoutmaster Edgar A. Wolfe, Committeeman Snyder, Victor L. Reynolds, Robert Hahn and Mrs. Rudisill, assistants. The troop will have a regular meeting next Monday, 7:30 p.m. at the Community Center.

Plan Annual Cub Dinner February 10

Plans for the annual Blue and Gold dinner of Cub Pack No. 84 were completed at a meeting of the Pack officials and den mothers held on Monday evening at the Community Center. The dinner will be held Monday, February 10 at 6:30 p.m. in the general purpose room of the Rolling Acres Elementary School. Following the family dinner, skits will be presented by each den. There will be an awards ceremony and several Cub Scouts will be graduated to Boy Scout Troop 84. The menu will be in charge of the den mothers.

Other Boy Scout Week activities were discussed and it was decided that the Cubs will wear their uniforms during Scout Week, February 7-13. They will go to church along with Boy Scout Troop 84 and Explorer Post 84 on Sunday, Feb. 9. The boys and their leaders will attend the 10:30 a.m. worship in Centenary Methodist Church, meeting at 10:15 a.m. in the Community Center.

The pack will have a window display during Scout Week at Dot's Tot Shop, S. Queen St. Handcraft and project activities of the pack during the past year will be displayed. Preliminary plans were made to paint the Cub room at the Center. The den mothers will meet again on Monday, Feb. 24, at 8 p.m. at the Center, as announced by Cubmaster Alvah Stonesifer.

BURY MRS. BORTNER

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth S. (Tressler) Bortner, 71, widow of Austin S. Bortner, Silver Run, who died on Monday in the Warner Hospital, were conducted this afternoon at 2 o'clock from Little's Funeral Home, Littlestown. The Rev. William C. Kams, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, Littlestown, officiated. Interment was in the church cemetery. The pallbearers were six nephews of the deceased: Levi Hull, Charles Tressler, Robert Stonesifer, Glenn Yingling, Earl Yingling and Otto C. Sells.

FIREMEN MEET

Routine business was transacted at the January meeting of the Kingsdale Fire Company at the engine house along the Littlestown-Taneytown Rd., Monday evening. Chaplain Richard DeGroot opened the meeting with prayer. President Henry Barnes heard reports from Theron M. Bair, secretary, and Ernest Baumgardner. Refreshments were served by Harry Hilbert and Donald Bowers. The company will meet again Monday, February 24, at 7:30 p.m. and refreshments will be served by President Barnes and Glenn Mummert.

was completely extinguished. The fire is believed to have been caused by a flaw in the chimney that allowed sparks from the furnace or a fireplace to reach woodwork. Damage was placed at several hundred dollars. At 7:30 o'clock the firemen were called to put out a fire in a chimney at the home of Charles H. Smith, one block west of the Roy home on West Broadway. Tanks of chemicals were used. There was no damage. At 8:15 o'clock the third alarm was turned in and the firemen rushed to the service station of Hobson D. Crouse, a mile south of here along the Littlestown highway where an overheated stove had set fire to the interior of the building. The loss has been estimated in excess of $500.

The Columbus, Ohio, Country Club will be the scene of the 64th PGA golf championship on July 12-19.

Chimp Stars In Ice Capades

HERSHEY, Pa.—Nobody will make a chimp out of this chimp. The reference is to Spanky, the skitkest chimpanzee in the world, as patrons will see when the 24th edition of Ice Capades moves its glitter and glamour into Hershey Sports Arena for 11 days, beginning Tuesday night, February 11.

Dave Pitts, who gave up a song and dance career to concentrate on training Spanky, has a mad companionship going with his Spanky. Pitts says that Spanky has developed a star complex, feeling that the entire show works for him. No wonder. Spanky, an eight-year-old chimpanzee from Africa, does adagio flips, comedy ballet and 18-foot barrel jumps. All this he accomplishes with great aplomb, attired in the same kind of costume as Pitts, his lanky partner who gladly gives his gifted animal stage center. People may not remember his name, but Spanky is the chimp who made a monkey out of Jack Benny several times when he appeared on the famous comedian's TV program. He's also been featured with Steve Allen.

PALM SPRINGS CLASSIC WILL BEGIN TODAY

By CHARLES MAHER

Associated Press Sports Writer

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Defending champion Jack Nicklaus and more than 500 other golfers were here today to start the tournament that doesn't know when to quit.

It's the Palm Springs Classic, an event whose format suggests it was conceived by the same guy who originated the trans-Pacific underwater bicycle race.

Actually, it's a very ordinary golf tournament, except that it runs five days and is the only 90-hole event on the PGA tour—and that it is played on four different courses simultaneously—and that it is really 18 tournaments in one.

$100,000 IN PRIZES

The nearly 11 dozen professionals entered will compete for about $100,000 in prize money. Of this, $50,000 will be distributed Sunday to leading scorers in the 90-hole tournament proper. The winner will get $7,500.

The rest will be divided up a little at a time, during the 17-part pro-amateur event that runs through Saturday.

In addition, an insurance company promises a $10,000 bonus to any pro who makes a hole-in-one. Tournament sponsors offered a $50,000 hole-in-one prize in previous years. But they had to take out a $50,000 insurance policy to cover themselves and, after a few payoffs, the premium got so high they decided to drop the gimmick.

5TH PGA TOURNEY

This is the fifth PGA tournament of the year and winners of three of the previous four are here. They are Art Wall Jr., who won the San Diego open; Tony Lama, winner of the Bing Crosby tournament, and Chi Chi Rodriguez, who won the Lucky Invitational at San Francisco, defeating Don January in a playoff Monday.

Arnold Palmer, who won the first Palm Springs Classic in 1960 and repeated in 1962, is back again. So is Billy Maxwell, the 1961 winner.

Last year, the event went 108 holes, Nicklaus defeating Gary Player in an 18-hole playoff. If there is a tie at the end of 90 holes this year, there will be a sudden death playoff the same day.

will conduct a drive for funds to finance the project, which probably "cannot be completed this year." Stewart Long, Walter Myers and Robert Koonz were named to meet with the building committees of both groups to discuss the alterations to the borough building.

CEMETERY CHANGES

Council assured representatives of the cemetery association that efforts will be made this year to repair the street and approach to the cemetery.

Myers named the property, utility and finance committees to study the need to purchase a new half-ton pickup truck and secure bids for the vehicle. He also set a deadline of April 1 for completion of the tennis courts and erection of fences and asked council to "entertain constructive suggestions from persons interested in expanding the borough for residential, commercial and industrial growth."

Upon the recommendation of Mayor Earl Stites, council approved payment of $35 to Paul Hildebrand, Civil Defense officer, for expenses in connection with the CD program and $600 to the fire company for installation of a new base radio and antenna.

FUTURE PROJECTS

Council reappointed Rev. William R. Jones to the community recreation board and exonerated the tax collector of $372.60 in real estate and $329.22 in occupation taxes.

Items placed on the agenda for action at future meetings include: Installation of a fire-proof vault for borough records; investigation of the insurance program in an effort to save money; supply storage for better control of materials; renewing walls and hallways of the borough building; consideration of building codes to replace the present building permits; up-dating of old ordinances; a two-year street program; a request to the state Highway Department to rebuild W. King St.; bulk storage facilities for borough gasoline, and a check of the entire town for sidewalk repairs.

The police report showed 21 parking violations, seven motor code violations, 16 investigations, two criminal arrests, 12 funeral escorts, 3,257 miles for police car and $417.12 in meter collections.

Council approved payment of bills totalling $4,323.49, of which $896.22 was water expense, $615.51 sewer and $2,811.76 general expenses.

Secretary-Manager Roger Keefe reported favorable acceptance of the recent snow removal program.

CYPRIOIS ASK U. S. FORCE TO "KEEP PEACE"

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
LONDON (AP)—Greek Cypriots indicated today that they want a United Nations force to keep peace on the Mediterranean island and not the NATO contingent Britain has been trying to muster.

Zenon Rossides, Cyprus' delegate to the United Nations, told Secretary-General U. Thant in New York Tuesday a U.N. peace-keeping force would be acceptable on his territory.

American and British diplomats strove to keep the lid on tempers in Athens, Ankara and Nicosia as signs mounted that U.S. troops might soon be assigned to help keep Turkish and Greek Cypriots from each other's throats.

U.S. FLEET NEAR
The London Daily Sketch reported that U.S. 6th Fleet ships with combat Marines aboard had been ordered to "within striking distance of Cyprus as fears of a Turkish invasion swept the island."

A U.S. Defense Department spokesman said Washington knew of no unusual moves by the fleet.

Britain, whose military reserve has been drained by trouble in Cyprus, East Africa and Malaysia, has suggested that the United States provide some help. Similar appeals have been made to West Germany, France, Italy and Canada, all members of the North Atlantic Alliance, along with Greece and Turkey.

U.S. MAY HELP
U.S. officials in Washington said the United States is seriously considering sending a contingent of troops to Cyprus, but that it wants more information before acting.

Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, NATO's supreme commander in Europe, flew from Paris to Ankara Monday for consultation with the Turks. He went to Athens today.

The Greek Cypriots, who make up 80 per cent of the island's population, are demanding removal of the veto which the Turkish Cypriot minority. The Turks demand that the veto be retained or that Cyprus be partitioned between the two communities.

WILL QUESTION JUROR'S WIFE IN BRIBE OFFER

By GAVIN SCOTT
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — The government plans to question two more members of Gratin Fields' family today about events leading to his removal from the jury that tried James R. Hoffa on a charge of conspiracy.

Fields' wife and a daughter, Mrs. Ricie Tease, were to testify about what they knew of a $10,000 bribe offer, reportedly made in an attempt to win acquittal of the Teamsters Union president in the 1962 trial at Nashville.

Hoffa and five others are on trial here charged with attempting to influence the jury in the conspiracy trial.

Testimony by a policeman and Fields' son, Carl, Tuesday linked defendant Thomas Ewing Parks with the bribery attempt. Neither witness implicated Hoffa, nor was there any suggestion that the elder Fields knew of the alleged attempt to buy his vote.

James T. Walker, the policeman, testified Parks told him he had $10,000 to pay for assurances that Gratin Fields would vote for acquittal.

He told of introducing Parks to Carl Fields and with attempting to arrange a similar meeting with Mrs. Mattie Leath, a daughter of Fields.

Carl Fields, 32, told the jury of his meeting with Parks: "He asked me if I could talk to my father about voting for an acquittal. I told him no."

IKE SPEAKS AT DETROIT'S GOP FUND - RAISER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican chieftains fan out across the country tonight for 21 rallies aimed at fattening the party's war chest and whipping up campaign enthusiasm.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and several GOP presidential hopefuls head the speakers' lists for "go-day rally" dinners.

They'll address an expected 25,000 party faithful in a one-hour, closed-circuit television program.

From New York to Los Angeles, Republicans hope to wipe out the $225,000 deficit that still remains from the 1960 presidential campaign.

IKE IN DETROIT

Eisenhower will speak from Detroit, while New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater — both declared presidential aspirants — are scheduled to talk from Los Angeles and Pittsburgh.

Republican National Chairman William E. Miller will speak from Cleveland, while Sen. Thruston Morton of Kentucky will be in Houston, Tex.

The televised portion is also to carry speeches by these three Republicans who have denied they are presidential candidates but have indicated a willingness to accept a draft.

Michigan Gov. George Romney in Washington, D.C., Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton in Indianapolis and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon in New York.

OTHER DINNERS

Nontelevised GOP dinners in other cities will be addressed by some of the party's congressional leaders and governors.

Meanwhile, the rapidly filling New Hampshire primary field was reduced by one. Former Gov. Wesley Powell pulled out Tuesday in favor of Nixon, whom he called the logical choice for the nomination.

APPROVES PLAN TO GAS BIRDS AT MIDWAY

By MALCOLM BARR

HONOLULU (AP) — The nation's top bird lover has sanctioned the destruction of Midway Island's Gooneys — within limits.

The Gooney bird is known technically as a Blackfoot or Laysan albatross. To the Navy flier he is known as a menace.

There are 250,000 of the birds squatting on Midway Island, a mid-Pacific atoll 1,312 miles northwest of here.

VISITS BASE

Carl W. Bucheister, president of the Audubon Society, was invited to visit Midway by Navy authorities, admittedly nervous that their proposal to kill the big, white birds with gas would raise the ire of bird lovers.

Bucheister returned here with a reassuring message.

"They have one of the most humane methods of eliminating the birds. . . and Midway has only a part of the world's population of albatross. If it's necessary in the future to eliminate more of the birds, there is still a good reservoir of albatross on islands leeward."

But Bucheister insisted that three federal bird sanctuaries on the nearby uninhabited atolls of Pearl and Hermes Reef, Lisianski and Laysan, must remain "absolutely inviolate."

Gassing the gooneys in big trucks is a body blow for the birds who for more than 20 years have resisted all efforts to move them from the two square miles of land they share with 3,000 servicemen and dependents.

The people don't mind having the birds nesting in their yards, playing with the family dog, or making friends with the children. There's even a law making a sailor liable to court-martial if he's caught molesting a Gooney.

But the people of Midway, along with Navy officials, are concerned about the danger to men and aircraft.

Only birds that nest near the runways are being hustled to the gas chamber. They number about 20,000. The remaining 230,000 will be left to their own devices if they behave themselves.

Shriver Does Not Seek Veep Post

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—

U.S. Peace Corps chief R. Sargent Shriver said today he has no aspirations for the American vice presidency but this "does not mean I have no aspirations" for any public office.

He did not say which public office he might seek.

He left for Washington via Tokyo today after a two-day visit to Thailand in connection with the Peace Corps program.

The brother-in-law of the late President Kennedy has been mentioned as a possible running mate for President Johnson this year.

BOSTON (AP) — G. Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, says panic on the market was greater in the first minutes after President Kennedy was assassinated than in the 1929 crash.

Funston, speaking to the board of governors of the Association of Stock Exchange Firms in Boston, said stock specialists did a "magnificent job" in closing the market ahead of schedule. Stock specialists are traders assigned to keep certain stocks stable.

PARTY LINE TIE

County Treasurer Daniel J. Wolff, met to set the salary. Robert and Fair moved that the salary be $5,600.

Discussion revealed that Miller's duties would not include the chief assessor post and Treasurer Wolff said he did not feel a new man coming into the office should receive more than the outgoing clerk. Since Appler received $5,200 as clerk, Wolff said the new clerk should not start at any higher price.

TWO TIE VOTES
When the vote was taken, Wolff and Republican Commissioner G. Edwin Motter voted against the $5,600 and Robert and Fair voted for it and the motion lost.

A little later Wolff moved and Motter seconded a motion that the salary be $5,200. Fair and Robert opposed that and that motion lost.

Miller in the meantime had compared what it would cost him to get more help at the farm and take the commissioners' clerk post. He decided he couldn't afford the clerk's post at $5,200 and left the meeting.

That left the commissioners with no new chief clerk and no salary decision. Wolff then suggested that $5,000 be set as the beginning salary in the position. Motter seconded and on the vote the two Republicans voted yes, Rebert and Fair did not vote, and the motion carried 2 to 0.

TEXAS AGGIES SUFFER LOSS

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

For the first time in 40 years the surprising Texas Aggies are in a good position to win the undisputed basketball championship of the Southwest Conference.

Despite a 73-65 defeat by independent Houston Tuesday night the Aggies are 3-0 in league competition, including a victory over defending champion Texas, and figure to go all the way in Shelby Metcalf's first year as head coach.

"Our foes took us too lightly the first half of the season said Metcalf. "It won't be that way the rest of the season. Everyone will be pointing for us now that we're on top and the team to beat."

Tuesday's defeat by the Cougars was the first game since Jan. 11 for the Aggies and it took some fifty long-range shooting by Chet Oliver, Jack Margenthaler and Benny Neumann to win for Houston.

G-BURG LOSER IS WINNER NOW ON NEW STAMP

Bernard Harold Christenson, New Jersey illustrator and stamp collector whose ambition to design a stamp was frustrated in the Gettysburg competition, realized his goal in the same area last week. His art work for the Battle of the Wilderness Civil War Centennial commemorative stamp was selected as best of 34 suggestions submitted by nine artists.

The five-cent Wilderness commemorative stamp, to be issued May 5 at Fredericksburg, Pa., will show cannoneers silhouetted against bleak sky. It will be the fourth in a series of five adhesives marking the War Between the States.

Previous stamps in the series marked the bombardment of Ft. Sumter and the battles of Shiloh and Gettysburg.

The final Civil War commemorative will appear next year, marking the ending of the conflict at Appomattox.

Although the Post Office has not officially announced first day arrangements, collectors may send addressed envelopes to the postmaster at Fredericksburg any time. Orders will be held for servicing in due course.

Chinese Christians Renew Revivals

WHEATON, Ill. (AP) — Reports of a small revival of religious activity in certain sectors of Red China have been received by Hong Kong sources of the National Association of Evangelicals, it said in a release issued here, adding:

"One report indicated that the Communist government was no longer interfering in the religious affairs of this particular Christian community and had even assisted them in maintaining their church properties. The report... is not believed to reflect general conditions."

Noise Is Greater In Johannesburg

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — A noise-level survey rates Johannesburg a full six units above New York, which inspired Cole Porter to write of "the roaring traffic boom." Prof. Guerin Renzo Bozzoli, chief of the electrical engineering department at Johannesburg's Witwatersrand University, says:

"American cars are low-revving and give out a deep rumble which is not terribly upsetting. Here we use a great many high-revving British and European cars which scream at you."

Funds Allotted For Restoration

Congressman George A. Goodling (R., Pa.) has been informed by the Department of the Interior that, as a result of final distribution of $10.2 million in Federal Aid funds for fish and wildlife restoration during fiscal year 1964, Pennsylvania will receive $135,305.83 for fish and $708,181.50 for wildlife.

Funds apportioned to the state will be used for fish and wildlife restoration projects involving the purchase of land, improvement of areas of land or water for fish and wildlife, and to conduct research for the restoration and perpetuation of these resources.

Under this program, the states initiate the projects and if they meet the requirements established by the Department of the Interior, the funds allocated are used to reimburse the states up to 75 per cent of the cost of completed projects.

The money for fish restoration, as provided by the Pittman-Robinson Act, is derived from excise taxes received from the sale of rods, reels, creels etc. The Dingell-Johnson Act provides that money for wildlife restoration be derived for excise taxes received from the sale of shotgun shells, guns, etc.

Stealing Legal After 4 O'clock

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — A few passers-by stopped and gazed at two thieves forced open a car door in Johannesburg's main street and stole a pullover.

One of them, a visitor from Rhodesia, was unsure of local custom and decided not to intervene. He saw a policeman, though, about 100 yards away and hurried over.

"There are a couple of Africans robbing a car over there," he said.

The policeman looked, smiled, checked his watch and said, "Man, it's 4 o'clock — I'm off duty." And off he sauntered.

Dog Star Plays In Foster Play

BARDSTOWN, Ky. (AP) — A dog named Herman III earned $148 during the past summer. He played the part of Old Dog Tray in "The Stephen Foster Story," a musical presented here each year.

Herman, owned by Tommy Durham, tried out for his part at the beginning of the summer. While other dogs posed and pranced, Herman just watched with sad eyes. He was an instant success in the show.

Where did Herman's wages go? Tommy used them to buy a small fishing boat. Herman doesn't like the water.

Wedding

Miss Martha Lee Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Lott Walker, 201 Walnut St., Carlisle, formerly of Gettysburg, became the bride of Gerald Eugene Eby, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Eby, Carlisle, at 3 p.m. on Saturday in the First United Church of Christ, Carlisle.

Eby-Walker

The Rev. J. William Arnold, pastor of the church, performed the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Marie Mellman Noggle, Harrisburg, presented a recital on the harp prior to the ceremony. Mrs. Walter M. Eckman, Carlisle R. 5, was the organist.

Miss Shirley Raffensperger, Carlisle, was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Esther McLeod and Miss Norma Jean Eby, sister of the bridegroom, both of Carlisle, and Mrs. Roy E. Cook Jr., Hollidaysburg.

Ronald H. Kerr, Shippensburg, cousin of the bridegroom, was the best man. The ushers were Samuel W. Eby, New Bloomfield, cousin of the bridegroom; Roy E. Cook Jr., Hollidaysburg; and Ronald C. Brehm, Carlisle.

Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner for approximately 250 guests was held at Allenberry. Following a wedding trip, the couple will reside in Philadelphia.

The bride was graduated from Carlisle High School and Carlisle Commercial College and had been employed at C. H. Masland and Sons.

The bridegroom, who was also graduated from Carlisle High School, is a senior at Drexel Institute of Technology, Philadelphia, where he is majoring in chemical engineering. He is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Four Sisters Run Family Farm

VALLEY FALLS, Kan. (AP) — Four sisters, all retired school teachers and in their 80s, operate their family farm near this northeastern Kansas town.

They are Miss Kate Goddard, Mrs. Anna Goddard Canfield, Miss Mary Goddard and Miss Geneva Goddard. Each has a life certificate in teaching from Emporia (Kan.) State Teachers College.

A niece, Mrs. Fred M. Moore, of Topeka, Kan., says the four get up at 5 a.m. daily and work each morning before resting in the afternoon. They take care of 100 chickens, raise a garden, milk and churn, crochet, grow flowers, quilt, watch television and read avidly, Mrs. Moore says.

However, they have a farmer hired to put in crops and care for the livestock. The farm was purchased by their parents 82 years ago.

A & M's OWN GAS

WILBURTON, Okla. (AP) — One way to cut down on the utility bill is to have your own gas well — and that's what happened at Eastern A & M College.

When a gas well was brought in on college-owned land, the school invoked an old state policy providing that free gas must be provided to public installations when the fuel is found on state property.

The policy was not contested and officials say it will mean a saving of at least $14,000 annually.

Musial Refused Basketball Offer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals could have done as well in basketball as in baseball, the owner of the St. Louis Hawks says. Ben Kerner of the National Basketball Association team says:

"Our scouting reports indicate that Musial was fast and had a good left-handed hook shot. If he had taken that basketball scholarship at the University of Pittsburgh 25 years ago, he might eventually have played with the Hawks."

Psychiatrists Examine Ruby

DALLAS (AP) — Jack Ruby was whisked secretly Tuesday to a clinic where he underwent a neurological examination with three court-appointed psychiatrists as observers.

The results of the tests and the reports of the three psychiatrists are not expected to be made public until the balding 52-year-old nightclub operator goes on trial for the nationally televised killing of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy.

Ruby's trial is set for Feb. 17. Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown ordered the neurological tests a week ago.

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade told newsmen the examination included encephalographic tests, a blood serology, X-rays of the skull, and a spinal tap.

Ruby's lawyers contend that Ruby was temporarily insane when he shot Oswald to death Nov. 24.

Support Quigley For Senate Seat

SHAMOKIN, Pa. (AP) — A Northumberland County citizens committee is circulating petitions in the anthracite coal region supporting the Democratic nomination of James Quigley, assistant secretary of health, education and welfare, to the U.S. Senate.

Louis Apichell, who heads the committee, expressed hope Tuesday that the Democratic State Committee would endorse Quigley at its meeting in Harrisburg Feb. 4. Quigley is a native of Mount Carmel.

Lanvin Fashions Are Long, Lean

PARIS (AP) — Jules Crahay's first collection for Lanvin has a long and lean look, with the figure little marked.

There are lots of tricks.

Long, slim blouses open on tube dresses but never come off. They are really two half-jacket shells that disappear into a smooth side insert panel that joins top and bottom and keeps everything all of a piece. Flaring peignoir jackets stay put in the same way.

Another series of jackets did come off, but it took a bit of doing. Worn slightly open, with only a wide hip belt holding them together, their edges were firmly buttoned in double-breasted effect to the dresses underneath. For coats with the same hip cinch, the anchoring buttons were usually dispensed with.

Dresses under coats and jackets were usually shifts.

Fourteen states where pari-mutuel harness racing is conducted were enriched a total of $82,624,086 in 1963.

Tobacco Company Quits Broadcasts

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The American Tobacco Co. won't be a sponsor of the Los Angeles Dodge radio broadcasts next season for the first time in more than 10 years.

A spokesman for Union Oil Co., which holds the broadcast rights, said the tobacco company had decided not to cosponsor the broadcasts. He said the decision came as a result of the U.S. surgeon general's committee recent report that cigarette smoking was a health hazard.

NEW YORK (AP) — Ronnie and Paul Kroll are together in the musical "Oliver!" but with a slight change in relative rank.

Ronnie, who is 8, shifted several months ago to "Here's Love" while his 13-year-old brother continued on as a member of the juvenile gang in the show based upon Dickens' "Oliver Twist."

He was summoned back when the title role, which requires a very juvenile performer, fell vacant.

Q.

How do the Holsum bakers capture the full unique flavor right in every loaf of Gold'n Round Bread?

That's it. We start with special round baking pans... then cover them with tight lids that are kept in place from proofing time right through the entire oven trip.

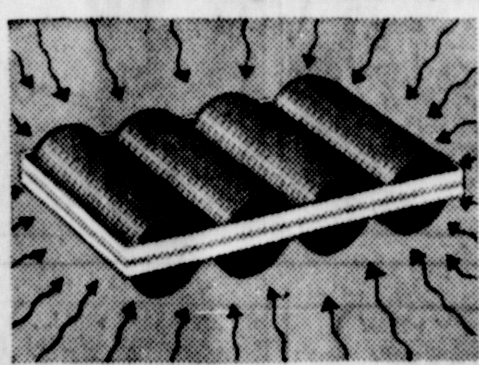

This is the way Gold'n Round's finer flavor is captured securely in every soft, tempting circular slice... from oven to you. Each loaf fairly sparkles with baked-in Golden Waves of Flavor—truly marks of distinction that are your assurance of a most unusual and genuinely satisfying taste experience. Enjoy this rare treat—Gold'n Round Bread—today.

PRECIOUS FLAVOR STARTS WITH PROOFING And "snap" go the lids on the round baking pans at just the right moment when the dough is ready for the oven.

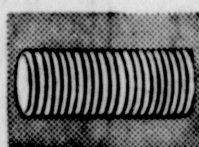

OVEN BAKES IN THE LID-CAPTURED FLAVOR Now the flavor spreads through every pore of the loaf. Circular shape of pans allows equal heat to reach all sides—gives even baking all the way through.

BREAD'S OUT, BUT FLAVOR'S IN TO STAY Out come the pans from the oven, and only now do the tight lids come off—when we're sure that every bit of flavor has been captured deep inside.

NOW, the beautifully baked golden round loaf (hence the name, GOLD'n ROUND) is ready for slicing, wrapping, and on to your table, absolutely fresh and full of flavor.

Sculptor Crusades For New Acceptance Of American Art

By KATHRYN JOHNSON
STONE MOUNTAIN, Ga. (AP) — "The serious artist in America cannot exist unless he indulges in commercialism or is fed by someone else," the lean, wiry, German-born sculptor said.

"The artist wants to be part of our society and he wants to dress properly too," added Stefan Thomas, one of the South's most nonconforming and successful sculptors.

"Art is not therapy, as many people think. It is dynamite. Art is a compulsion that saps all one's energies."

PHILOSOPHY OF MAN

"What is there to study except the philosophy of man?"

Raising his voice and waving his pipe spiritedly, Thomas beams "the stupidity of some politicians," the "rigidity of some universities," the "lack of imagination in architecture today" and "the mediocrity of most modern art."

"Politicians have no faith in the talent of their own people," the sculptor said. "Georgians, for example, went to a far off land to buy art for their own state Capitol. And it's deplorable that Georgia, so rich in clay for modeling, has so little good sculpture."

"The worst offenders are the liars in art. Advertising outfits must take more blame because they possess the weapon of psychology — a powerful weapon. They would mutilate the public for a dollar."

As for universities, Thomas thinks there should be no easels in them. "You can teach art history and theory and appreciation in a university, but painting and sculpture should be taught in art schools."

PUBLIC APATHY

These are very bad years in art in the South, Thomas thinks. "This is partly due to public apathy — but mostly it's the fault of the artist."

As a small boy in Bavaria, Thomas knew he wanted to be a sculptor. At 14 he was apprenticed to a stone cutter. Later he studied at the Academy of Fine Arts in Munich. He came to America in 1928, visited Atlanta and stayed to become an ardent Georgian.

"Georgia is a great state. It has climate, mountains, sea shore and every known material for the arts — which should be utilized.

"America, too, is a great country. But we've arrived at a time when talent has to speak and not the dollar."

A visit to Thomas' home is like a visit to a museum. His statues, busts, paintings, murals, mosaics, reliefs and mobiles are everywhere. He built the home — a long stone building sprawled among the pines — with the help of his four children; stone by heavy stone, beam by beam, pouring concrete, laying block, setting tile.

HOME MUSEUM

Far back of his home, with a view of Stone Mountain in the distance, Thomas is working out a testament to the brotherhood of man. Already he has built a huge granite wall surrounding the floor area where a 45-foot statue will rest.

He plans to dig two mammoth holes, one to "seal the good of men." For the other, a "hole of the bad," he says he "would like to have the documents, the letters and books of men like Hitler, rascals like Khrushchev."

Among Thomas' work are a bust of Sen. Walter F. George on the courthouse square in Vienna; a bronze and granite monument to Eugene Talmadge on the Capitol grounds and a life-size bust in Italian marble of Martha Berry of Berry Schools at Rome, Ga.

In 1949 he was commissioned by Alabama to create the $150,000 Confederate Memorial for Alabama in the Vicksburg National Park, which includes a 20-ton bronze statue.

MUST YOU BE SO HONEST?

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — A questionnaire handed out at a class for expectant parents brought some unexpected answers.

One question, "What do you expect to gain from these classes?" brought this answer from a mother — to — be: "A less apprehensive husband."

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Of 2,134 students enrolled at a Wichita high school, only 80 percent correctly completed a line art or an enrollment form calling for their date of birth.

Many of the 20 percent who were wrong stated they were born in 1963.

COUPLE CATERS TO HUNTERS IN ELK COUNTRY

ELLENSBURG, Wash. (AP) — A mile high in the Cascade Mountains where the snow is hip deep stands Hunter's Inn, a former sideshow tent containing Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lyle, hot coffee and food.

The Lyles cater to elk hunters. There's nobody else up there. "At 5 o'clock in the morning," says Ruth Lyle, "we can't seem to keep enough coffee perked for the customers." At that hour at that altitude it's so cold you don't shave, you chip.

Most of the 20 miles from Ellensburg to the Lyle emporium are straight up, but the tent stands in the snowy heart of some of the nation's finest elk country. Dozens of temporary hunter camps are scattered among the rocky, timbered ridges, many within walking distance of the Lyles' mountain beaver.

SUMMER RESTAURANT

Ruth and Tom operate a restaurant at the coastal fishing town of Westport during the summer. A friend there suggested kiddingly they open a branch for hunters.

"So we went and did it," Ruth says. "We're making expenses for our hunting vacation." The tent has all necessary cooking equipment, two tables for weary diners and its own 10,000-watt, gas operated power plant. Its lights at night, reflecting high in the trees, have guided several confused hunters to warmth and safety.

The Lyles established the inn with the start of deer season in October, locating at the side of Coleman Creek road in the state-owned Colocum Game Range.

BIG BREAKFASTS

Breakfasts are the big item, says Ruth, who rises before dawn to get the coffee perking for hunters passing that way intentionally, enroute to a ren-

Devotes Year To Building Wagons

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Ed Ward likes wagons.

And that, he says, explains why he worked seven days a week for a year and a half building a "train" of 11 wagons. He's spent a lot of money, too, but when asked to put a price on the wagons, he just replies: "Plenty."

Ward carefully designed his wagon train so that each wagon is a little smaller than the one in front of it. This heightens the perspective. From the 12-foot lead wagon, the size decreases to four feet — a miniature wagon which rides atop another wagon.

"It all started with an old farm wagon I bought 37 years ago," Ward said. "My brother had it several years. I got it back and began restoring it and fixing it up."

"The next thing I knew I was involved in quite a project." Apparently Ward isn't the only one who likes wagons. The first time he trundled his train out before the public, more than 100 people showed up to climb aboard — even though the wagon train wasn't going anywhere.

devious — they hope — with trophy elk.

There's a good business around noon in sandwiches, but most of the tired hunters struggle back to their own camps for a hasty supper before tumbling into their sleeping bags.

Tom, it must be reported, spends most of his time hunting. "The other night," he moaned, "Ruth stepped out of our tent and could have shaken hands with a bull elk. Nearly every night we hear them moving around, real close."

"When daylight comes they hide from me. I haven't had one in my sights yet. How about a hamburger, Ruth, before I go out again?"

URGES WOMEN

Myers who said the subject "is timely for Soroptimists, for we are a world-wide association of classified service clubs. Each one of us, whether in a profession or business, has already been charged with the responsibility of service in the community by being Soroptimists."

She explained about her own field of work, public welfare and public assistance and said the public assistance program of Pennsylvania is a family-centered, community-based program, providing income, maintenance, medical care and other rehabilitative social services to help families and individuals. She gave the basic requirements for eligibility in the five categories of assistance: Old age assistance, blind pension, aid and services to needy families with children, aid to the disabled and general assistance. She said situations where some kind of housekeeping-home-making aid is needed show this would be a real service to the community if Soroptimists would sponsor such a plan.

NOMINEES FOR HONOR

Following the dinner meeting, the business session was held. Reports were given by the secretary, Mrs. Donald Carver, and treasurer's report by Miss Anna Weaver, Littlestown. Reports were given by Mrs. Samuel Higginbotham, classification and membership; Mrs. Myers, constitution and bylaws, concerning national lines; Mrs. William Shoemaker, chairman, Mrs. George Ditchburn, Mrs. Fred Faber and Mrs. James A. Knox. Miss Jane Stallsmith, international good will committee, reported she had received a letter from a "sister club" in Grenoble, France.

Dr. Elizabeth Gregg, chairman public affairs, reported the following high school seniors had been selected by schools in the county for the Citizen's award of the Soroptimist Foundation: Miss Holly Asquith, Biglerville; Miss Linda Knipple, Littlestown; Miss Candace Sneddon, New Oxford; and Tim Bullett, Gettysburg. The winner is to be selected by March 1 and the award will be presented at the dinner in March. Mrs. Burton reported gifts had been purchased for two welfare children at Christmas, and noted the members who had served on the Holiday Bureau.

Mrs. Glenn Guise, chairman ways and means, reported the club would hold a card party in the REA building, N. Stratton St., February 10 at 8 p.m. with prizes and refreshments. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the club. Mrs. Estelle Williams said she had received a letter of thanks from Mrs. Marcella Harster, president of the Women's Civic Council, for the gavel sent them. Miss Curtis reported on the mental association meeting she attended.

DINNER IN FEBRUARY

The corresponding secretary was asked to thank The Gettysburg Times for its coverage of news for the last year. Mrs. Bream reported on the Gettysburg Council Service Clubs meeting she attended at the "Y" Monday evening. Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Burton, as alternate, are to represent the club.

Mrs. Violet Hill, cochairman of the public relations, announced the next dinner meeting will be held February 11 in the Trinity Reformed Church. Correspondence was read from Miss Marian Olewine, governor of the region, and Miss Ann Lott, Aspers, who represented Adams County as an international farm youth exchange student in Scotland last summer. The meeting closed with the Soroptimist pledge.

Israeli Classis Set For Broadway

NEW YORK (AP) —

Habimah, Israel's national theater company, has selected a classic, "The Dybbuk," and two new dramas for performance during its forthcoming Broadway visit and American tour.

The group opens at the Little Theater on Feb. 1 in a seven-week engagement. Other cities to see the company include Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, Toronto and Montreal.

The plays dealing with modern Israel are B. Z. Tomer's "Children of the Shadows" and H. Bartov's "Each Had Six Wings."

Tina Louise Joins Abbott Musical

NEW YORK (AP) — Tina Louise is director George Abbott's choice for "the other actress" in "A Girl to Remember," alongside star Carol Burnett.

The musical concerns a pair of Broadway hopefuls who win Hollywood contracts. Miss Louise appeared on Broadway six years ago in "Li'l Abner." The show is slated to arrive at the Mark Hellinger Theater in May.

NEW DELHI (AP) — The number of juvenile delinquents from 16 to 20 years old apprehended in India more than doubled from 1958 to 1961, says the Central Bureau of Correctional Services.

Its director, D. N. Ray, attributes an increase in all age groups to a general breaking up of family control.

LEGAL NOTICES

In re: Esther May Bream, a resident of Littleton, Pa. vs. a ½ interest in Adams County, Pennsylvania, a person alleged to be of weak mind.

Take notice that The Gettysburg National Bank, guardian of the estate of the above ward, filed its petition in the Court of Common Pleas aforesaid to have said land sold to said William H. Bream for $450.00 the undivided one-ninth interest of the ward Adams County, Pennsylvania, as follows:

Tract #1 adjoining public road leading to the Carlisle Road and land formerly of Frederick Winand, Louise Hilke, the heirs of Abraham Trust, Robert Haas, Benjamin Charles Chesser, Moses Stambaugh and J. Frank Lewer, containing 81 acres and 83 perches, more or less.

Tract #2 adjoining a public road, land of George Wildasin, and Hays Anthony, containing 2 Acres, more or less.

Tract #3 being the same which Charles B. Miller, and Martha A. Le, rev. his wife, by their deed dated March 28, 1907, recorded in the Office of the Recorder of Deeds of Adams County, Pennsylvania, in Deed Book 98 at Page 120, did sell and convey unto Harvey C. Bream.

Tract #4 being the same which Charles B. Miller, and Martha A. Le, rev. his wife, and Ida Miller, unmarried, constituting all the heirs-at-law of William Miller, deceased, by their deed dated March 28, 1907, recorded in the Office of the Recorder of Deeds of Adams County, Pennsylvania, in Deed Book 98 at Page 122, did sell and convey unto Harvey C. Bream.

The said Harvey C. Bream being so thereof seized died intestate on May 16, 1945, leaving to survive him as his sole heirs-at-law, nine children namely: Margaret Trimmer, Luther Bream, Mary Pittenbarger, Alice Bream, Ruth Steeger, Esther May Bream, Martha Bream, Louise Broomman and William H. Bream, in whose title became vested under the Intestate Laws of Pennsylvania.

Pursuant to the filing of the aforesaid petition, the Court directed that a hearing be held on said petition on Monday, February 3, 1964, at 10:00 o'clock, a.m., when and where said parties in interest may appear and be heard if they so desire.

ATLANTA ASKS SOLUTION TO RACIAL FUSS

ATLANTA (AP)—Leaders of Atlanta grope today for an answer to new racial questions arising after four consecutive days of demonstrations.

The demonstrations by young Negroes and white persons were directed mainly against one restaurant which has refused to go along with many others in desegregating.

However, a leader of the demonstrations said protests will continue until all restaurants in Atlanta are open to Negroes.

"There are many instances of segregation in the city and for many long years people have tried to negotiate a settlement without success," said James Forman, executive secretary of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

CALLS CONFAB

Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. called together about 250 city leaders for a conference today.

"I feel that this meeting is necessary to maintain the rational attitude that has marked Atlanta's approach to human relations," Allen said. He has been working to open public accommodations to all, and was one of the few Southerners who testified in behalf of the accommodations section of the proposed civil rights bill in Washington.

The Atlanta Restaurant Association proposed to its members Tuesday night that all restaurants in the city be closed for one day to "show the unity of the restaurant industry."

STRONG PROTEST

The association's executive secretary, Ed England, told the approximately 200 members that the organization wanted only to have the right to operate its restaurants either integrated or segregated, whichever the owners preferred.

The size and intensity of Tuesday's demonstrations lessened after massive protests Sunday and Monday, when more than 200 were arrested. Fisticuffs broke out Sunday night among Ku Klux Klansmen and Negro pickets at Leb's restaurant, in the heart of the city's downtown hotel district.

Those arrested were charged with disorderly conduct and disturbing the peace.

U. S. REJECTS RED PROPOSAL

GENEVA (AP)—U.S. officials have rejected a Soviet call for destruction of all the world's bomber fleets. But they were hopeful it signified a Russian interest in an American suggestion to keep obsolete bombers from smaller nations.

The bomber proposal was put forth at the Geneva disarmament conference Tuesday by Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin. Chief U.S. disarmament negotiator William C. Foster

GOP DEMANDS MORE WORK IN BAKER PROBE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate investigation of Robert G. Baker—sweeping up a tangle of names, dates and deals—came under growing Republican pressure today to dig deeper and resolve a dispute involving presidential aide Walter Jenkins.

The possibility Jenkins, a long time assistant to President Johnson, may be asked to testify arose as Republicans, brandishing a campaign issue, raised a cry of "possible perjury."

Special counsel L. P. McEndon of the Senate Rules Committee said he didn't know whether the White House assistant would be questioned about his disputed role in the sale of advertising time on the Johnson family television station in Austin, Tex., to an insurance man.

"DIRECT CONFLICT"

Republican National Chairman William E. Miller demanded that the committee develop fully what Miller called a "direct conflict" in sworn statements by Jenkins and insurance man Don B. Reynolds, a witness in the Baker hearings.

He said there is "a clear issue of possible perjury" which should be followed through.

The committee, in recess today, is investigating whether Baker, who resigned under fire on Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, engaged in business dealings that conflicted with his official duties or involved other priorities.

Reynolds, a local insurance agent with whom Baker was associated, has testified that at Jenkins' suggestion he agreed to buy the advertising time in connection with his sale of $100,000 in insurance on Johnson's life.

HIKE INSURANCE

At the time Johnson was the Democratic leader of the Senate. Later, after Johnson had become vice president, the insurance was increased to $200,000.

Jenkins denied in his sworn statement that he had knowledge of any arrangements by which Reynolds purchased advertising time on the TV station.

Reynolds has disputed this and has said that not only he but Albert G. Young, president of the Mid-Atlantic Stainless Steel Corp. of Silver Spring, Md., a pots and pans manufacturer, discussed the television advertising with Jenkins.

Bobby Kennedy Not Interested In V.P.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy says he is not thinking about running for vice president now, only about doing a good job as attorney general.

Kennedy, just returned from a trouble-shooting mission to Southeast Asia, was asked at a White House news conference Tuesday to comment on the action of the Erie County (N.Y.) Democratic Association in endorsing him for vice president.

"I'm not interested in any of those matters at this time," he said. "I have decided only that I am going to be attorney general and not look beyond that."

HOUSE VOTES SCHOOL FUNDS

WASHINGTON (AP)—With only five minutes of talk the House has swiftly approved $216 million for school districts swollen with children of federal employees.

Legislation authorizing the funds was passed last December but the administration didn't ask for the money until last week.

The House passed the measure unanimously Monday and sent it to the Senate.

In addition to appropriating funds for the impacted school districts the bill would provide funds for three other programs authorized by Congress—$41 million for construction of community mental health centers and research into mental health and retardation.

—$31.2 million for expansion of the college loan program under the National Defense Education Act.

—$600,000 for continuing the Mexican farm labor program for one year.

FILE SUIT TO STOP SCHOOL BIBLE READING

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—The American Civil Liberties Union has taken legal steps in an effort to force the Cornwall-Lebanon Suburban Joint School District to abandon its program of classroom Bible reading and prayer recitation.

A suit was filed in U.S. District Court here Tuesday on behalf of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Snavely, their daughter, Victoria Mary, 10, and son, Eric, 7, all of North Lebanon Twp.

Attorney Gerald H. Goldberg, who filed the suit, said a preliminary hearing has been set for Feb. 11 in federal court in Harrisburg.

Only last week, the school board voted to continue its policy of permitting Bible reading in its public schools on a permissive basis.

IGNORE WARNING

In so doing, the board ignored a warning contained in a telegram from the ACLU. The organization had threatened to bring court action to force the board's compliance with the rulings of the U.S. Supreme Court and state Atty. Gen. Walter E. Alesandroni.

The board has maintained that last year's Supreme Court decision declared only compulsory Bible reading and prayer recitation in public schools unconstitutional.

Eric Snavely is a second grade pupil at the Ebenezer Elementary School, and Victoria is in the fifth grade in the same school.

"The incident which led directly to this legal complaint," Goldberg said, "was one in which young Eric was obliged to say the Lord's Prayer in unison with the rest of the class and then was openly rebuked by his teacher for saying it with his eyes open. The teacher then made him repeat the prayer at the head of the class with his eyes shut."

Vongvichit claimed the plane was dropping rice to a right-wing army outpost and thus violating the Geneva accords.

34 Gettysburg Merchants Will Offer Unusual Bargains Friday And Saturday

The biggest bargains of the year will be found this weekend in 34 of Gettysburg's retail stores, where owners have slashed winter prices as much as half.

Gettysburg Sale Days, the semi-annual event that helps to keep budgets in line, will be held Friday and Saturday. Stores will be open from 9 to 9 each day for the convenience of working mothers and parents of school children.

Merchants report that stocks are not complete and not all sizes and colors are available, but there are many fabulous buys for every member of the family. Today's edition of The Times includes advertisements of sale items.

In addition to the tremendous savings in prices, merchants are giving away $15 worth of merchandise to winners of lucky merchandise tickets. Shoppers are reminded to register in each of the 34 participating stores for certificates of $10 and $5 each. Winners will be drawn Saturday night and names will be announced Sunday evening at 9 o'clock on WGET. The Times will print winners' names in Monday's edition.

Merchants joining in Gettysburg Sale Days are: Bargaintown Stores, Bender's Gift Shop, Benn's, Bix-Sway Men and Boys' Shop, Britcher and Bender Drug Store, Coffman-Fisher Co., Dougherty & Hartley, Carol Ann Shoppe, Estep's Cut-Rate, Faber's, W. T. Grant Store, Hershey's Men's Wear, Jack and Jill Shoppe, Jacobs Bros. ## Ban Sale Of Cigarettes In Government Buildings; Hospitals Oust Machines

NEW YORK (AP)—Officials of several states have banned the sale of cigarettes in some government buildings, including hospitals.

They cite reports by the U.S. surgeon general, and private research, on the health hazards of smoking cigarettes.

Some private hospitals also have ordered cigarette vending machines removed. Miriam Hospital in Providence, R. I., put up signs saying: "We do not sell cigarettes. We love you too much."

In many areas, public officials ordered strict enforcement of laws, some decades old, against selling cigarettes to minors.

TO AMEND CODE
The National Association of Broadcasters, meeting in Florida, is expected to amend its code of self-regulation to forbid programs or commercials that might tend to encourage young people to smoke.

The major television and radio networks have said they are reviewing their policies on commercials.

A survey by The Associated Press indicated today that efforts by government officials to discourage smoking by educational campaigns are fairly widespread. Outright bans of cigarette sales are less prevalent.

Public Health hospitals in Massachusetts have been ordered to discontinue sales of cigarettes in canteens and to remove vending machines.

BAN HOSPITAL SALES
Pennsylvania banned cigarette sales in its four hospitals for tuberculosis and is considering banning them in the state's general and mental hospitals.

California's Public Health Department banned cigarette vending machines from all its buildings last July after a state report on smoking hazards. The University of Minnesota's hospitals and the Rochester (N.Y.) Institute of Technology have banned cigarette machines.

New York State and California are among the states that plan to tell school children about the hazards of smoking.

Rocky Opens Bid For Calif. Votes

By MORRIS LANDSBERG
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, swinging hard at political extremists, is keying his California campaign to the progressive line.

The New York governor opened his bid for the state's 86 delegates to the Republican National Convention Tuesday with a jab here and a handshake there.

He and his wife traveled to Los Angeles on an overnight train to continue a three-day tour after a full day in San Francisco.

Rockefeller's jabs were directed at Sen. Barry Goldwater, who intends to oppose him in the California presidential primary; at extremists of both the right and the left, and at President Johnson.

Man Slapped Her; She Shoots Him

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — Mrs. Lula Spell, 45, of Chester Township, was held on a homicide charge Tuesday in the fatal shooting of Rastiah Bellamy, 30, an auto mechanic. Police quoted Mrs. Spell as saying Bellamy slapped her in the face. During an ensuing argument she took a pistol from a bureau drawer and fired one shot, police said. The shooting occurred Monday night.

Recovery In Steel Gains Momentum

AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—A recovery in the steel industry that began last year is gathering momentum. It promises to impart important strength to the nation's humming economy.

Improved profit reports on 1963 are flowing in from all major producers. Some reflect dramatic gains. The mills, working steadily faster, are turning out steel at a near-record rate of 115 million tons a year.

Modernized plants with new tools and technology are increasing efficiency, helping to lower costs and boost earnings.

Last year's modest price increases are augmenting profits and providing funds for further modernization. Also contributing to funds for improved facilities are federal depreciation rules, which were liberalized in 1962.

4 GROUPS ASK STATE MONEY AT HEARINGS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

HARRISBURG (AP) — Representatives of the Departments of Mines, Commerce, and Internal Affairs and of the Historical and Museum Commission go before the legislature today to ask for over $6.8 million with which to operate in fiscal 1964-65.

Their budget requests, made on the seventh day of hearings before the House and Senate Appropriations Committees, represent a decrease of a quarter million dollars from current spending.

In his budget, Gov. Scranton has proposed the following appropriations for the three departments and commission, with 1962-63 fiscal spending in parenthesis:

CALLED INADEQUATE
Mines and Mineral Industries $2,295,434 ($2,604,933); Commerce $1,723,305 ($1,815,232); Internal Affairs $1,557,142 ($1,497,151); Historical and Museum Commission $1,085,313 ($1,020,890).

In testimony Tuesday, Agriculture Secretary Leland Bull complained that the appropriation proposed for his department was inadequate.

"First, we must think about moving, occupying, furnishing and equipping the new agriculture administration and laboratory building," he said.

ASKED OVER $4 MILLION

"Secondly, there is need for the creation of marketing and related programs for agribusiness, the state's basic and most important industry. Third, we must initiate improvements in our organization to strengthen the administration of our total program."

Bull said his department originally requested $4,455,412 for general government operations, but was cut to $3,802,463 by the governor's office.

Arthur T. Prasse, Commission of the Bureau of Corrections, asked for another $200,000 in the Justice Department's proposed appropriation for creation of two more mobile forestry camps.

ASK EXTRA FUNDS

The Health Department called on the lawmakers to appropriate an additional $136,400 to help finance a joint city health department in Allentown and Bethlehem.

Dr. Charles L. Wilbur Jr., secretary of health, said the two cities adopted plans for the project several weeks ago, but not in time for it to be included in the governor's budget.

Bank Teller Admits Guilt On Forgery

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — Joseph W. McGinley, 41-year-old head teller of a Wilkes-Barre branch bank, pleaded guilty Tuesday in U.S. District Court to a four-count criminal information in connection with a $10,300 shortage.

James MARLOW Reports

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Red Chinese are either backing down on their resistance to a "two-China" policy or they are going to try to use American allies and friends, and even neutrals, to put this country in a box.

The problem of Red China promises to make 1964 a mixed up, goofy, and turbulent year. It started Monday when France recognized the Red Chinese, meaning it recognized them as the legitimate rulers of all mainland China.

France did this against the expressed wishes of its American ally which backs Chiang Kai-shek who claims his Nationalist government on Formosa is the only legitimate government both of Formosa and the mainland.

STUCK WITH FICTION

From a realistic standpoint this is a fiction and has been for years. The United States got thrown into it and then got stuck with it.

The Reds defeated Chiang and his armies and drove him from the mainland to Formosa 100 miles offshore in 1949 after this country had given up helping him because his government was corrupt and useless.

He has been on Formosa ever since and could never get back to the mainland without American help, which isn't being given him, although this country is pledged to defend him from a Red Chinese invasion.

700 MILLION PEOPLE

The Reds not only control the mainland, with its 700 million people, but show absolutely no sign of losing control. There are 11 million people on Formosa.

When Chiang first fled to Formosa, the United States washed its hands of him, said it wouldn't defend him from Red Chinese attack. It made him an ally, and agreed to defend him, only after the Korean war began.

Now comes the odd part, the only point on which Chiang and the Reds agree. Both insist Formosa and the mainland are not two separate Chinas but just two parts of one China.

Both claim to be the legiti-mate rulers of the one big China. Everything gets murky after that.

The Reds until now have insisted they wanted no recognition of their right to boss the mainland from any country recognizing the sovereignty of Chiang's government over Formosa.

Chiang has insisted on the same thing, but the other way around. To do otherwise, both argue, would be to admit there are two Chinas instead of one.

RECOGNIZED BY 48

Forty-eight countries now recognize the Red Chinese, including some of this country's North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies: Britain, Norway, Denmark, the Netherlands. Now suddenly there appears to be a switch.

Red China is accepting recognition from France which also recognizes Chiang's government. It may be they hope outraged Chiang will disown the French recognition, although this country insists he must not.

If such a hope is not the real basis for the Reds' acceptance of the dual French recognition, then the Communists seem to be abandoning their long-stated policy against the "two-China" recognition.

REASONS FOR U.S. STAND

What could they hope to gain? If other countries flock behind France, particularly American allies, in recognizing Red China it should weaken this country's anti-Communist China position and cause trouble with friends.

For years this country has failed in trying to isolate the Red Chinese from the rest of the world, diplomatically and economically. Why the American attitude?

Several reasons: Anger over Red China's part in the Korean war; hostility of Red China to this country, particularly because of American support and defense of Chiang; the fear that the more influential and respectable Red China becomes, the more Southeast Asian countries will lose their will to resist communism.

VERY BAD DILEMMA

The Red Chinese have said they want no dealings with this country until it abandons Chiang. Thus the two countries, the United States and Red China, are in one of the worst dilemmas of modern times.

This isn't all. Now the Red Chinese can be expected to push for admittance to the United Nations, over American opposition, where Chiang's government has

Abbottstown

MISS DELLA N. BUTT ABBOTTSTOWN — The following members of the Abbottstown Lions Club visited the Gettysburg Lions Club Monday evening to hear Lion Claude M. DeVoras, first vice president, Lions International: Foster Kimball, Fred Bankert, Earl Alwine, Paul Breighner, Fred and Faber Wildasin and Charles Chubb.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Butt are visiting in Lancaster at the home of their son, Ervin, whose wife is confined to the hospital.

The Emmanuel Reformed United Church of Christ Youth Fellowship Skating Party will be held at Playland on Saturday evening. Cars will leave Abbottstown for one of the five permanent seats on the Security Council.

The main purpose of the Red Chinese at the moment would seem to be to use some device to weaken American prestige and influence and, in short, change the course of events.

Besides, after their split with the Soviet Union, the Red Chinese need to look elsewhere for help in supplies and trade, if not in arms.

the skating party at 7:15 on Saturday evening. All persons planning to go should register in advance with Allen Meckley or Deborah Smith.

People In The News

NEW YORK (AP) — Playwright Lillian Hellman has been awarded the 1964 Gold Medal for Drama by the National Institute of Arts and Letters.

Malcolm Cowley, president of the institute, announced the award Tuesday in New York. It is given once every five years and is awarded for over-all achievement instead of any single work.

Miss Hellman won her reputation 30 years ago with "The Children's Hour." Her latest play was "My Mother, My Father and Me," produced last year.

OSLO (AP)—Foreign Minister Halvard Lange of Norway will pay an official visit to the United States in March, the Foreign Ministry announced Tuesday. A ministry spokesman said Lange would confer with President Johnson and Secretary of uel Reformed United Church of Christ on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Baker will arrive home from Hawaii this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown, Ashland, Ky., are visiting relatives here this week.

POPE SETS DATE TO OPEN REFORM

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI Tuesday set Feb. 16 for the start of the broad reform in Roman Catholic public worship promulgated in the Vatican Ecumenical Council's decree on liturgy.

Some of the reforms, in the greatest changes in Roman rite liturgy since the third century when Latin replaced Greek in the Western church, become effective immediately on Feb. 16.

Others will be worked out in detail by a special commission which the pontiff announced today would be set up. Its work might take months or years before other reforms can be put into effect.

The liturgy decree includes the power for a national council of bishops to decide whether and how much modern language should be put into the mass in place of Latin.

NEW YORK (AP) — Singer Josephine Baker has returned to the United States for her first Broadway appearance in 13 years.

She'll open a two-week engagement next month, then go on tour.

Miss Baker left the United States 32 years ago to live in France.

SHAPP BACKED BY ANDREWS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Former House Speaker Hiram G. Andrews, endorsing Milton J. Shapp as the Democratic nominee for the U.S. Senate, unleashed a blistering attack Tuesday on the "leadership" of the party's state organization.

Without naming names, Andrews, a Democrat, said in a statement released in Harrisburg:

"The present leadership of the Democratic party is not opening the door to Democratic opportunity for increased service to the people. It is, instead, opening the door wider and wider to political oblivion."

Andrews, an 87-year-old, 11-term former legislator from Johnstown, argued that the party's state organization "is confronted with a crisis of leadership," adding:

"While the leaders of the Democratic party in Pennsylvania have concerned themselves primarily with the preservation of their own positions, they have allowed the party's idealistic roots to wither."

Illinois has the best record among Big Ten basketball teams. The Illini have won 499 games, lost 283.

PREPARE TO TRY FIRMS IN PRICE - FIXING

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department reports that one of six defendants in a Philadelphia bread price-fixing suit has agreed to the filing of a consent judgment forbidding further price-fixing or allocation of sales territories.

The case against the other five defendants is in pre-trial stages, the department said Tuesday.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said the judgment, to become final in 30 days, involves Fleischmann's Vienna Model Bakery of Philadelphia.

STARTED IN 1942

The company and five other bakeries doing business in the Philadelphia-Trenton, N.J., area were named in a civil antitrust suit filed in the U.S. District Court at Philadelphia on June 29, 1962.

The suit charges them with conspiring to fix prices for economy bread in the area at all levels of distribution. Economy bread is a grade of white loaf sold at lower prices than regular bread.

The other bakeries involved are Ward Baking Co., New York; Leo Rossi Baking Co., Trenton; Schulz Baking Co., Pottstown, Pa.; Stroehmann Bros. Co., Williamsport, Pa.; and Frankford Grocery Co., Philadelphia.

Mae Duckworth, 35, University of Washington's new basketball coach, was the assistant coach of the Huskies the last three seasons.

De Gaulle Meeting With LBJ Unlikely

PARIS (AP)—The possibility of President Johnson and President Charles de Gaulle meeting this year seems to be remote, informed sources said Monday.

Diplomatic exchanges on a possible meeting were said to have stopped about three weeks ago. At that time Johnson declined a French suggestion that he go to the French island of Martinique to meet De Gaulle when he travels there in March after his trip to Mexico.

SPLIT BY ARMSTRONG

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Directors of Armstrong Cork Co. have voted to recommend to stockholders a two-for-one stock split and to increase the dividend following the split.

President M. J. Warnock said Monday that if the proposed stock split is approved at the April 27 annual meeting, the board will declare a quarterly dividend of 25 cents per share on the new common stock, equal to 50 cents on the present stock.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—John Patrick, 36, and William Green III, 25, will oppose each other in the April 28 primary for the Democratic nomination for a full term as congressman from the fifth congressional district.

Patrick, a lawyer and former county detective, announced Monday he would oppose Green for the full two year term which begins next January.

TOKYO (AP)—Communist China charged that a U.S. military aircraft intruded into its air space over southern China Monday. Peking issued its 276th "serious warning" against the United States, the New China News Agency reported.

DENT DECIDES LATER ON RACE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John H. Dent, D-Pa., said Tuesday he will decide whether he will enter the primary for the Democratic senatorial primary after party leaders pick their candidate at a meeting scheduled for Friday.

Dent has been endorsed for the nomination by Democratic House members from Pennsylvania and his name has been submitted to a meeting of party leaders in Washington earlier this month.

But Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, dean of Pennsylvania House members, who introduced Dent's name at that meeting, said his speech for Dent got no reaction from the other party leaders.

Another name being prominently mentioned for the nomination to oppose the expected re-election bid of Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., is Genevieve Blatt, secretary of internal affairs.

Dent, from Westmoreland County, noted that Miss Blatt is the only Democrat to hold statewide office in the administration of Gov. Scranton and said Democrats should think twice before giving up this post.

The service last November was the first interfaith Christian worship service ever in the village.

Sen. Clark Loses His Libel Action

SUNBURY, Pa. (AP) — Sen. Joseph S. Clark has lost his libel suit against two Northumberland County Republican leaders in connection with campaign statements in the 1962 election.

The suit was dismissed Tuesday by County Judge Robert Fortney, who held that the statements contained in a GOP campaign letter were not libelous.

The suit, filed a day before the election, named as co-defendants Henry Lark, county Republican chairman, and Dr. Robert Allen, Mount Carmel, who served as a county campaign committee chairman.

Indict Osteopath For Tax Evasion

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — A federal grand jury has indicted Dr. James F. Mullan, a York osteopath, on charges of evading some $140,000 in income taxes over a four-year period.

The indictment, handed up Tuesday to U.S. District Judge William J. Nealon, charges Mullan with filing false and fraudulent joint income taxes on behalf of himself and his wife.

The evasion charges cover the period from 1957 through 1960.

lage, a Hudson River community that was the scene of Revolutionary War activity, and the locale of Washington Irving's fiction.

The service exemplifies the growing popularity of the movement toward Christian unity within the United States and the world.

MOVEMENT SPREADS

This ecumenical movement has involved prelates and evangelists, the clergy and the laity, big cities and hamlets, dioceses and individual churches.

The Rev. Dr. Billy Graham, a Southern Baptist making his first appearance at a Catholic institution, discussed the "ecumenical revolution" before an audience at Belmont Abbey College near Charlotte, N.C.

"This is the beginning of something so fantastic it could change all of Christendom and will affect you, your children and their children," the evangelist said.

So far, there has been little, if any, actual exchange of pulpits across the walls of Catholicism, Eastern Orthodoxy and Protestantism. But there has been an opening of dialogue on religious levels ranging from the churchgoer to Catholic cardinal.

BREAK TRADITIONS

Tuesday, by invitation, a Catholic theologian addressed a group of Protestant clergymen in Philadelphia. Today a Catholic clergyman - professor speaks to the Ohio Council of Churches in Columbus. It will be the first appearance by a Catholic churchman before this Protestant body in its 45-year history.

The movement's increased popularity flows from many founts—the unifying work of the National and World Council of Churches, the election of John F. Kennedy as the first U.S. president of Roman Catholic faith, the Vatican Council in Rome.

Opera Is Entertainment, Says Veteran Director

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Drama Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A lot of people just have the wrong slant on grand opera, says Nathaniel Merrill.

"You can't regard it as something on a pedestal and treat it with kid gloves," he insists. "Opera shouldn't be approached as an art, but as entertainment."

A director of productions for the Metropolitan Opera, Merrill feels the time has come to rid musical classics of the arty awe that surrounds them, and find new ways of making them exciting to audiences.

"Don't forget," he declares, "up until 1850 at least, operas were written to enhance personal reputations and hence they had to be popular entertainments."

"And don't worry. If a work has great artistic qualities, they'll come through safely."

Merrill is opposed to something else.

"There's a terrible attitude that what isn't understood must

"The creative period comes about a year ahead of the physical presentation," says Merrill, who insists on linking freshness of approach with meticulously exact backstage precision.

TRANSFORM SCORE

"What you face is transforming an oral experience — the composer's score — into a visual experience. It is unlike any other theatrical undertaking, for the composer has interposed very specific time demands."

Merrill likes to saturate himself through reading in the composer's era — "so as to reconstruct what he knew and to understand why he did certain things." Simultaneously he goes into a huddle with the designer of sets and costumes.

"The most important single ingredient in the whole undertaking is the director-designer collaboration," he says. Merrill's associate in this job is Robert O'Hearn.

The staging problems are intricate, to make sure that vocalists are strategically placed at dramatic high points, to guarantee that everyone has a clear view of the conductor — a neat trick with 100 singers or more — and to get exits and entrances performed on split-second cues.

"The details and the chorus are the elements in which you can communicate fresh ideas," explains the director.

STUDIED MATH

On time-space matters, Merrill enjoys one advantage — he went to Dartmouth College to major in mathematics. Only in his senior year did he switch to musical theory, with the sudden objective of becoming a composer.

After college his training activities for the first time opened up the world of opera — "and I realized I wasn't going to be a composer." Prior to arrival at the Met, he worked at the Tanglewood, Mass., Festival, and with opera companies in Hamburg, Wiesbaden and Glyndebourne.

"There is one thing opera has that is missing in all other forms of theater," he points out — "you can have five or six people singing related or opposed motives all at the same time, and have it come out a unity. Try something like that in a play."

Although his personal preference — leans toward Italian composers — a group in which he brackets Vienna's Mozart — Merrill feels that "a good conductor and excellent singers are the most important elements in

RESHUFFLING OF TV SHOWS IS IN OFFING

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Television viewers may steel themselves for a major reshuffling of network programs next season, with an anticipated 40 per cent death rate among the shows now occupying prime time.

The normal rate of attrition averages about 30 per cent per season.

Among the programs in shaky condition now, according to the authoritative Broadcasting Magazine, are "Sing Along with Mitch," "Rawhide," and "The Joey Bishop Show" which have been around for several seasons. Among the new shows which probably will disappear after one short season are "The New Phil Silvers Show," "Grindl," "The Lieutenant." All are receiving low audience ratings.

THE JAMES BOND TYPE

Television's new program interest for next season appears to be the James Bond type of hero. Bond is the super-secret agent of a popular series of books by British author Ian Fleming. He constantly and single-handedly saves the world from dangerous foreign powers. He also is a smooth, suave, man-of-the-world with distinctive tastes in weapons, food and beautiful women.

As Fleming writes it, it is pure, uncomplicated escape with comic overtones. The flavor a performance — then what opera one does isn't quite as important."

He feels that it would be an improvement too if operas in most places — other than at such international centers as the Met where stars from all over the globe are guests — were translated into English.

"It's not a bad language to sing in at all — and a lot more people would realize they could enjoy opera."

Merrill draws the line at one way of widening opera audiences — on television.

"On TV it is terribly boring," he avers. "Big scenes are reduced to tiny meaninglessness. Closeups are worse — there is nothing photogenic about the human larynx."

TV TO OPERA — Mary Costa, who first became known to the public via TV commercials, poses at the Met where she made her debut as the lead in "La Traviata."

will be hard to convert to the home screens.

Nothing daunted, however, NBC expects to present "Mr. Solo," a character created by Fleming himself. CBS has two — "Mark Dolphin" and "Dr. Stryker." There are more on the drafting boards.

VIEWERS' WISHES

Meanwhile, if programs must be switched viewers would appreciate changes which would move some of the more popular 10-11 p.m. programs into earlier time spots — "The Danny Kaye Show," for one.

It would also be pleasant if they would take "Perry Mason" out of competition with "Dr. Kildare," and give us a chance to watch both "The Garry Moore Show" and "The Fugitive," currently opposite each other.

CBS announced Monday that Carol Burnett will be returning next season in a new, weekly variety hour in an early evening spot. Carol will appear in three out of every four programs, and the plan is to gather a star-studded roster of entertainers for regulars on the show.

It is expected that Lucille Ball will return to CBS next season in a weekly hour-long comedy series.

Roast Beef, British Style

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor

In England two accompaniments to roast ribs of beef are traditional. Yorkshire pudding and horseradish are offered with the meat. American cooks do well to follow suit.

If you're interested in a new way of making Yorkshire pudding, we can recommend the following recipe. In this rule, cornstarch is included with the flour, and it gives the pudding a tender texture.

You can, of course, serve the widely available bottled grated horseradish with the meat. But if fresh horseradish is in one of your markets, we urge you to try it. We like to fix the fresh horseradish as we find it offered in a well-known New York restaurant specializing in roast beef. To follow suit, pare the horseradish and grate it coarsely; spoon a little of the grated root into small lettuce cups, one for each serving of beef and pudding.

NEW YORKSHIRE PUDDING

1 cup sifted flour
1/4 cup corn starch
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 1/2 cups milk
1/4 cup hot drippings from roast beef

Into a mixing bowl sift together the flour, cornstarch and salt. Stir in eggs, then gradually stir in 1 cup milk, mixing until smooth. Beat gently until slightly foamy on surface. Stir in remaining 1/4 cup milk. Pour hot drippings into a 13 by 9 by 2-inch pan. Pour in batter. Bake in a very hot (450 degrees) oven 10 minutes. Set oven temperature to moderate (350 degrees) and continue baking until mixture is golden brown and slightly firm on top, 25 to 30 minutes. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

Surplus Imports Create Common Market Deficit

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—If misery loves company, the United States may take some comfort in the prospect that the high-flying European Common Market this year faces the threat of a deficit in international payments for the first time since its formation in 1958.

The U.S. annual deficit is older, and is still unsolved, if down from the peak of a few years back.

The European Common Market's basic problem also is one that the United States is accustomed to—the disturbances that growing prosperity can make in attempts to balance an economy, despite the welcomed advantages of having good times.

Rising consumer demand in Europe, fed by a striking increase in prosperity, has increased both the local prices and the volume of imports. Europe is worried about inflation and about running behind in its financial dealings with others.

The United States managed a pleasant $4.8-billion surplus of commercial exports over imports last year. The Common Market, on the other hand, had a $2.8-billion surplus of imports over exports. And about three-fifths of the U.S. $4.8-billion trade surplus can be traced to the big excess of its exports to Western Europe over imports from the Common Market and other European nations.

On the debit side, about half of the $1.2-billion rise in U.S. exports in 1963 to a total of $21.7 billion came from foreign orders financed by U.S. government aid programs, so its balance of payments deficit was not whittled much. For the year this deficit, including all dollars going abroad and returning in addition to commercial exports and imports, is estimated at $2.6 billion or more.

The European Common Market, on the other hand, was able to erase its deficit in trade by the aid of money earned in other activities and receipts, from shipping to America private investment from Europe, and to dollars spent on U.S. military establishments there.

TRADE UNBALANCED
This year, however, some of the factors of the European Economic Community—the Common Market—are predicting a total payments deficit of as much as a billion dollars. They note that imports of the six nations rose 10.5 per cent last year, and exports only 4.5 per cent. The members are France, West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

In most of the six, consumer demand has been growing faster than production. That is why imports have been rising, and a deficit is a threat.

SEARCH FOR JOB LEADS HIM TO JAIL

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Ambition was the undoing of Rubin R. Cannady, 32, a city hall janitor.

He applied for a better job in the custodial department at police headquarters and landed in jail.

Officers who interviewed Cannady for the new job discovered he had been sought since last March on a larceny charge.

Twelve of Army's 19-man hockey squad come from Massachusetts. Five are from Minnesota and one each from Indiana and New York.

DESIGNER SEES REVOLUTION IN HOME SHOPPING

NEW YORK (AP) — A revolution in the shopping habits of many American women is on the way, says an industrial designer.

Within the next 10 years they'll be buying routine goods from their home by television. For expensive items they'll shop through store-to-door vans or at small artisan-like stores.

These changes predicted by Walter P. Margulies, president of an international firm of marketing consultants and industrial designers. He explains:

"Retailing's next big breakthrough will be in television. The average housewife is growing tired of wasting her time in giant shopping complexes and of spending long, dreary intervals at the check-out counters. Why should she, when it is becoming technically feasible to coordinate routine shopping through a telephone-TV hookup to distribution warehouses located outside of town?"

ALL CREDIT CHARGING

This is how the TV shopping will be done: The shopper will phone her store and ask to be shown a video tape of supplies she's interested in. She'll make her selection over the phone and the computerized warehouse will mechanically assemble her goods and ready them for delivery to her home.

"And all of this type of shopping for daily, routine goods will be done by credit, with the charges probably being billed through telephone companies," Margulies suggests.

"On the other hand," he goes on, "shopping for the personal and more expensive items will involve a high degree of personal attention. We foresee store-to-door vans that will bring these items right to the housewife. We also foresee the development of groups of specialty shops clustered together in a central part of town. Large department stores will get into the picture by concentrating in the specialty field, grouping their quality products according to category and stressing individualized attention."

CHALLENGE TO CAPITAL

Margulies' design and marketing firm has worked on a wide range of projects, from the Nautilus submarine interiors to modern supermarkets to a wax company's pavilion at next year's New York World's Fair.

He believes developing TV-retailing is not so much a technical challenge as it is a matter of stimulating investment capital from industry. But he feels that growing consumer demand for convenience will finally spur industry to make the effort.

"If we can put a man on the moon, there's no reason why we can't do this," he reasons.

Senses Increase With Exposure

NASHVILLE (AP) — A psychologist at Peabody College here foresees the day when a good mother may turn the radio on full blast beside her baby's crib to improve the child's intelligence.

Dr. Carl Haywood is testing a theory that the earlier a person — or animal — has sensory experiences, the greater the chance of establishing interconnections between nerve cells and the brain, hence the development of greater learning ability.

Haywood's experiments have been with chickens and ducks. Newborn chicks and ducklings have a tendency to follow the first moving object they see, he says, usually their mother.

To prove his point about earlier learning and that genetic tendencies can be altered, Haywood mounted a decoy duck on a track. The fake duck zooms around giving out recorded duck calls. Young ducks and chicks follow along obediently — a tendency Haywood says is strongest under normal circumstances from 9 to 12 hours after hatching.

Haywood also hatched a batch of chicks in a room containing flashing lights, music and other assorted noises. He found these chicks would follow the decoy best at six to nine hours after hatching — considerably earlier than the others — and that their "following tendency" lasted longer than in chicks reared in a quiet atmosphere.

He concludes the "learning" of the second batch of chicks also was better instilled.

College Honors Mahalia Jackson

LINCOLN, ILL. (AP) — Mahalia Jackson, who became famous as a gospel singer, was awarded an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters Degree at the 99th annual convocation of Lincoln College.

Returning to her seat on the platform, Miss Jackson wiped tears from her eyes. It was the first honorary degree given to her by an educational institution.

Top French Artist Says American Women Lucky

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor
NEW YORK (AP) — For nearly 20 years paintings signed Theobald have created a stir in Europe. Theobald's awards include the top prizes in the art world.

Not long ago one of the top in Paris printed a glowing account of Theobald's most recent showing and called the painter: "An artist at the forefront of his contemporaries."

Heartwarming praise indeed. Especially since Theobald is a woman — a pretty, brown-eyed blonde named Mrs. Dubois de Montreynaud, wife of a distinguished French painter.

The other day in New York, on her way home to Paris from her first U.S. exhibition — in San Francisco — Mrs. Montreynaud explained how a woman copes with the great French prejudice against women artists.

YOUNG PAINTER

"I've painted since I was 18," she said. "At 20 I was already a permanent member of a famous old French society."

"Using my name as it was, Theobald — Renee Theobald was my maiden name — they didn't know I was a woman."

She added charitably: "It's true maybe that many ladies just paint for pleasure. . . . But anyway, she said, Europe is becoming so quickly Americanized "it's going to be better for women one of these days."

"Life is much easier for women here in America," she said. "It's a small thing, but you are living in a temperature 5 degrees Centigrade (9 degrees Fahrenheit) higher than we are living. Women can dress in sleeveless dresses and let the men boil. In Europe men are nice in our temperature and the women have to dress entirely covered up or freeze. I'm always a little cold."

"When I went back last time from here, about a year and a half ago, it was freezing in my home and I wanted to turn the heat up. 'No,' said my husband, 'it will be too hot.' I discovered we in Europe are living as men like to live; here it's lived for the women."

HUSBAND APPROVES

Nonetheless, her husband approves of her painting.

"I'm happy he respects my work and that he thinks it important for me to keep on painting. I try to help him in his field too. The fulfillment of one person in a family can be fulfillment for the whole family if we share . . ."

"He brings home often scientific people and I like to hear what they say and discuss."

She uses one room of their large Paris apartment as a studio. "That way I'm home with the children and we can help them with homework when vernal is drying or I'm doing lots of secondary things."

Her daughters' ages range 5 to 15.

Mrs. Montreynaud said she's called an expressionist "and I guess I'm nearest to that."

Whatever she is, she's not devoted to abstract art. "I'm very sorry," she said, "that Andre Malraux, our minister of culture, with his reputation being such a cultured man, is putting emphasis on abstract art and considering it modern art, for abstract is not the French way of art."

"For Americans maybe, but French feeling has never been that way. Abstract art has been a very interesting new way to look, but it's something like a laboratory study. . . ."

SEES CHANGES

Perhaps even more than abstract art, the prospect of homogenized civilization brings out her strongest feelings. She said: "America is interesting to watch because, whether you believe it or not, that's the way we French will be in four or eight years. The differences are getting smaller and smaller."

"We're losing the greatest riches of the world, which lie in our differences. Remaining individual is a joy of life, the reason for living."

But she loves America, she protested.

"I have never completely recovered from a feeling I had at 18 when the American Army came to Paris."

"After four dark years, they came so gay and powerful and happy, and the whole town fell in love with them. For the rest of my life I will have a special feeling for America."

FLOATING SCHOOL

LAKE TITICACA, Peru (AP) — The Rev. Wellesly Muir, Seventh-day Adventist pastor, has started a school here. The building sits on oil drums out in the highest navigable lake in the world. The 42 students arrive to study in canoes made of reeds.

Indians who have villages on the lake's islands seldom permit strangers to approach their homes.

CHICAGO (AP) — Home influences are failing to encourage youths to enter the ministry, says Methodist Bishop Gerald Kennedy of Los Angeles. Writing in The Christian Advocate, he says most young men entering the ministry do so "in spite of the outspoken opposition of their fathers and the more subtle lack of enthusiasm of their mothers."

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER
HAIR POLISH. How long is it since anyone has commented that your hair looks "lovely?" To reap compliments a head needs more than first-rate styling. A coiffure, however glamour, is of small value if the hair appears dull and limp.

In restoring gleam and bounce to lifeless locks, reconditioning shampoos are a basic step. So easy, too!

Aiding the process is a growing number of suds conditioners, formulated for individual problems—from the oily to the dry, to the over-treated. Only seek, and you will find the just-right formula.

The shampoo technique of two latherings and two rinsings is familiar, of course. But do you know about the "special, added attractions?" For example, do you know that if you rinse as thoroughly after the first lathering as after the final one, the second application of suds acts like a polish? Give the hair a super-gloss?

And how about these little glossers?

• Lukewarm Shampoo Water. Hair specialists believe that hot water is hard on the scalp and hair, especially on a scalp and tinted hair.

• Soft Hair Brush. Use this to scrub the hairline and thus remove harmful residues of oil, make-up and flake.

• Shampoo Spray. Spray-rinsing is the most thorough and, if the spray has small rubber "fingers," it provides the additional benefit of massage.

• Linen Towels. Because a linen towel is lintless, it leaves nothing behind but shine on shampooed hair that is blotted with it.

Assign Countian To Shaw AFB, S. C.

S/Sgt. Alfred F. Weaver has arrived at Shaw AFB, S. C., for duty with a unit of the Air Training Command. He is a weapons maintenance instructor, and came from an assignment in Germany. He is the son of Mrs. Stella M. Weaver, of R. 5.

The sergeant is a graduate of Delone Catholic High School, McSherrystown. His wife, Regina, is the daughter of Louis E. Small of McSherrystown.

SAYS P.A. IS HARD HIT BY AUTOMATION

WASHINGTON (AP) — W. Willard Wirtz, U.S. secretary of Labor, has listed Pennsylvania as one of the states hardest hit by automation and declining use of coal.

A report from Wirtz, released by the White House Tuesday, said these two factors have wiped out 288,000 coal mining jobs since 1947 and left pockets of poverty in formerly prosperous communities.

The report listed West Virginia, and Kentucky along with Pennsylvania as the hardest-hit states.

JOB DEPRESSION

Job depression has been growing steadily worse in these Appalachian area coal fields, the report said, and the problems in the area are made worse by the fact that "the majority of the unemployed live in small communities, remote from metropolitan areas . . . and which they often are unable to leave."

In the period from 1947 to 1962, the report said, bituminous industry production dropped from 630 million tons to 422 million tons, as railroads switched to diesel fuel and homeowners switched to other heating fuels.

During this period, average production per man-day rose, as the coal industry became heavily mechanized, from 6.42 tons to 15.31 tons.

The report said production in the coal industry is expected to rise in the years ahead, but it will not produce enough jobs to put the unemployed back to work.

FAMILY DINNER

Meat Loaf    Oven Potatoes
Stewed Tomatoes with Green Beans

Salad Bowl    Bread Tray
Chocolate Chiffon Pie with Cornflake Crust

CORNFLAKE CRUST

4 cups corn flakes, crushed or 1 cup packaged corn flake crumbs

2 tablespoons sugar
½ cup butter or margarine

Turn the corn flake crumbs, sugar and butter into a 9-inch pie plate. Place in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 5 minutes or until butter melts; remove. Mix well and press evenly and firmly around sides and on bottom of pie plate. Chill before adding chocolate chifon filling.

GOOD DINNER

Nutritionists urge families to serve liver once a week.

Tomato Soup with Croutons
Liver and Onions    Potatoes
Green Beans    Salad
Fruit and Cookies    Beverage

LIVER AND ONIONS

1 pound liver, sliced ½ inch

thick

2 tablespoons flour
Salt and pepper

3 medium onions, cut into thin strips (about 3 cups)

2 tablespoons butter
1 to 2 tablespoons salad oil

Remove skin from outside of liver slices; cut into 1½-inch squares removing tubers. Mix together the flour, 1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper; coat liver with mixture. Heat butter in a 9- or 10-inch skillet; add onions and cook very slowly, stirring often until tender; crisp or very soft (to suit taste); add salt and pepper to taste. Remove onions and keep warm. Heat the oil in the skillet; add liver and cook over moderate heat until brown and barely cooked through; to turn easily, use a wide spatula. Serve liver around onions. Makes 4 servings.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON

Curried Chicken    Steamed Rice
Pineapple Rings with Mango Chutney and Salad Greens

Cocktail Cobbler    Frances

COCKTAIL COBBLER

FRANCES

cocktail
¼ cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 egg
¼ cup granulated sugar
3 tablespoons milk
¼ teaspoon vanilla

Turn fruit cocktail into a strainer to drain thoroughly; use syrup in some other dish. Sprinkle the brown sugar into the bottom of 8 well-buttered six-ounce custard cups — 1 tablespoon in each. Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt; cut in butter until it is in fine particles. Beat egg and granulated sugar until thick and ivory colored; beat in milk and vanilla. Fold into flour mixture; do not stir smooth. Spoon batter over fruit cocktail in custard cups. Bake in a moderate (375) degrees oven until brown and cake tester inserted in cake portion comes out clean — 30 to 35 minutes. Cool slightly and turn out; reheat if made ahead. Serve with whipped cream.

FRIDAY LUNCH

Shrimp and Salmon Chowder
Salad Bowl    Bread Tray
Homemade Candy    Beverage

SHRIMP AND SALMON CHOWDER

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
2 cups fish stock
1 cup milk

1 can (4½ ounces) shrimp, drained and rinsed
Salt and pepper

In a saucepan melt the butter over low heat; stir in the flour. Add the fish stock and milk; cook and stir constantly until thickened. Add the flaked salmon and shrimp with salt and pepper to taste; reheat. makes 4 servings.

Note: Simmer the salmon steak in a couple of cups of water seasoned with salt, peppercorns, whole allspice, bay leaf, onion slices, celery leaves; remove salmon; strain stock. Use fish and stock as directed above.

SATURDAY BRUNCH

Tomato Juice Cocktail

Crackers
Ham and Eggs
Emma R. Law's Popovers
Fresh Fruit and Figs Beverage

EMMA R. LAW'S POPOVERS

1 cup less 2 tablespoons water
¼ cup nonfat dry milk solids
2 eggs
1 tablespoon salad oil
¼ cup sifted flour
¼ cup yellow cornmeal
¼ teaspoon salt

In a mixing bowl dissolve the dry milk solids in the water. Add eggs and oil; beat well. Sift together the flour, cornmeal and salt; add all at once to liquid mixture. Beat until smooth and free of lumps. Pour into well-oiled muffin tins (2¾ inches across top and 2 inches deep — 6 tablespoon capacity). Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven until brown and firm — about 40 minutes. Serve at once. If necessary to keep popovers for a short while, puncture each with a sharp knife to let out steam, loosen and tip sideways in tins and leave in oven with heat turned off and door slightly ajar. Makes 8 large popovers.

SUNDAY SUPPER

Cold Meat Sandwiches with Tossed Green Salad
Apple Cheese Pie Beverage

APPLE CHEESE PIE

Pastry for 2-crust 9-inch pie

1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon flour
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
7 cups sliced pared apples
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Roll out half the pastry and line pie plate with it. Roll out remaining pastry; sprinkle with grated cheese; fold over in 3 layers; roll out again. Cut into 5 strips, each 10 inches long and ¾-inch wide.

Mix together the sugar, flour, nutmeg and cinnamon; toss with apples. Turn into lined pie plate. Dot with butter. Weave strips, lattice fashion, over pie; trim, turn under or over and flute edge. Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven until apples are tender — 40 to 45 minutes. You may wish to put a strip of foil around pie edge to avoid over-browning for first half-hour of baking.

FAMILY SUPPER

One of the ready-mixes is used in this recipe.

Fruit    Cocoa-mix Cookies

COCOA-MIX COOKIES

½ cup soft butter or margarine
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup instant cocoa mix
1 egg
1 cup flour
½ cup (about) chopped pecans

Beat together, thoroughly the butter, sugar cocoa mix and egg. Add flour; stir until blended. Cover and chill for several hours or overnight. Using a level tablespoon of dough for each, shape into small balls. Roll, pressing slightly, in pecans. Bake, 2 inches apart, on ungreased cookie sheets in a moderate (375 degrees) oven for 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 30.

WEEKDAY DINNER

Good enough for company!
Excellent Beef Loaf
Oven Potatoes    Broccoli
Fruit Salad    Beverage

EXCELLENT BEEF LOAF

1 egg, slightly beaten
¼ cup milk
4 thin slices bread
1 pound ground chuck beef
1 pound bulk sausage
teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
1 small onion, finely grated
4 shells hard-cooked eggs

Combine egg and milk: Soak bread in mixture. Work in beef, sausage, salt, pepper, poultry seasoning and onion. Rinse a 8 by 4 by 1-inch loaf pan with cold water; pack half of meat mixture into damp pan. Place hard-cooked eggs lengthwise down center; pack remaining meat mixture over eggs, covering ends. Run a spatula around sides of meat; turn out onto an 11 by 7 by 1½-inch pan. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 1 hour. Remove meat loaf from drippings. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

FRIDAY FARE

Spicy Beet and Onion Salad
Apple Betty Beverage

SPICY BEET AND ONION SALAD

1 can (1 pound) medium whole beets
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup cider vinegar
¼ teaspoon salt
6 whole cloves
6 whole allspice
½ stick cinnamon
1 small onion, sliced thin and separated into rings

Drain and quarter beets. Heat to boiling ½ cup beet liquid, sugar, vinegar, salt, cloves, allspice and cinnamon; pour over beets and onion in a jar; cover and refrigerate overnight. Serve drained beets and onions on salad greens. Store leftover in marinade in refrigerator.

FRIDAY FARE

Shrimp and Green Beans with Ginger
Steamed Rice

SHRIMP AND GREEN BEANS WITH GINGER

1 pound (20 to 30) raw shrimp, shelled and deveined
1 pound snap beans, cut diagonally in 1-inch lengths
Boiling water and salt
4 teaspoons cornstarch
¼ teaspoon sugar
2 teaspoons soy sauce
¼ cup cold water
1 beef bouillon cube
1 large clove garlic, crushed
1 tablespoon very thin strips candied ginger (rinsed in hot water before slicing)
¼ cup oil

Dry shrimp on paper towel. In a 10-inch skillet gently boil beans with 1 cup boiling water and 1 teaspoon salt until tender — about 10 minutes; drain. In a pint measure or small mixing bowl, stir together until smooth the cornstarch, ¼ teaspoon salt, sugar, soy sauce and cold water. Add bouillon cube, 1 cup boiling water, garlic and ginger; stir until cube dissolves. In the clean dry 10-inch skillet, heat oil; add shrimp and cook over moderate heat for a few minutes; turning with tongs or wide spatula, until cooked through. Add the cornstarch mixture; cook and stir over low heat until thickened and clear. Mix in drained beans; reheat gently. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

SATURDAY BUFFET

Chestnuts make dressing for turkey extra flavorful.

Roast Turkey with Chestnut Dressing

Giblet Gravy    Green Peas
Tossed Salad with Orange and Avocado

CHESTNUT DRESSING

½ pound (2 sticks) butter or margarine
¼ cup chopped onion
1 cup paper-thin celery crescents
2 cups boiling water
2 bags (8 ounces each) herb-seasoned dried bread stuffing
1 pound chestnuts (roasted, shelled, peeled and quartered)

In a large saucepan over low heat, melt ½ pound of the butter; add onion and celery; cook gently stirring often, until wilted. Add remaining ½ pound butter and boiling water; stir until butter melts. Add stuffing and stir to moisten. Stir in chestnuts. Makes enough for a 12-pound ready-to-cook weight turkey.

SUNDAY SUPPER

Split Pea Soup with Frankfurters
Carrot and Celery Sticks
Pumpkin Pudding Beverage

PUMPKIN PUDDING

2 tablespoons butter or margarine, soft
¼ cup firmly packed light brown sugar
3 eggs, separated
2 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon each ginger, nutmeg, and cloves
1 cup canned pumpkin
½ cup milk

Cream butter and sugar; beat in egg yolks one at a time. Mix together the flour, salt and spices; stir into butter-sugar mixture, then stir in pumpkin and milk. Beat egg whites until stiff; fold in. Bake in a deep ovenproof glass pie plate (8½ by 1½ inches) in a slow (325 degrees) oven for 1 hour. Pudding puffs but settles on cooling. Serve cold with caramel sauce and a garnish of whipped spiced cream.

Plants Footprints To Deter Hunters

MONTEVALLO, Ala. (AP) — The central Alabama county of Shelby was shaken by discovery of mysterious nine-inch tracks resembling those of a gorilla. Hundreds of persons, including a college professor, tried to decide what manner animal could have made the marks.

Then someone tipped a local radio station that the whole thing was a hoax. Pete Pickett of nearby Bessemer admitted planting the tracks to "keep hunters from killing turkeys in the area before the official hunting season opened."

COULDA WON BY 30

LOS ANGELES (AP) — As soon as the Dodgers won the World Series in four straight, general manager E. J. (Buz) Bava said:

"If they had played this well all year they would have won the National League pennant by 30 games."

Inca Headdress Highlights Primitive Art Show In City

By MILES A. SMITH
AP Arts Editor

NEW YORK, (AP) — The leading lady of the current exhibition at the Museum of Primitive Art is nameless, but probably of royal or noble descent. She wears two woolen mantles, held by a large pin, and a headdress of vivid red feathers. She is a silver figure just seven inches high, the main attraction in "Art of Empire: The Inca of Peru," which will be on display until February 2.

Many other silver and gold figures created by the Inca have survived the more than 400 years since the great Andean empire was toppled by the plunderers from Spain, led by Pizarro.

But their mantles and headdresses have disappeared or disintegrated.

FINERY PRESERVED

This aristocratic lady's finery was preserved in perfect freshness by the perpetual cold, at an altitude of 20,000 feet. She was found, 10 years ago, in the tomb of a young girl at Cerro el Plomo, not far from Santiago, Chile. The National Museum of Natural History in Santiago lent the figure to this exhibit.

The image's adornments indicate she must have been an important person. Presumably the young girl also was from an important family, to have had such a figure in her tomb.

From a scholarly viewpoint, this little silver object is a key to the past.

"It is, perhaps, when compared with the many gold and silver figures, one of the most tangible examples of the difference between what was and what remains," said Miss Julie Jones, research assistant, writing in the exhibit's checklist.

"If in the mind's eye all the similar figures were clothed as it is, muffled high under the chin in vari-colored mantles held together with a large silverpin, and on their heads were put headdresses of neon-bright feathers, would it then be possible to begin to comprehend the nature of what has been lost?" she asked.

FIRST EXHIBITION

This is the first comprehensive exhibit of Incan art in the Western Hemisphere. South American countries have strict laws about taking art objects over the borders, even temporarily. So the one figure from Chile is the only one from South America in the current show.

But the other 149 items have been gathered from many sources — a dozen United States museums, others in Paris, Munich, Berlin, Madrid and Copenhagen and nearly a score of U.S. collectors.

The exhibit includes many containers of silver, gold and clay, some of a ceremonial nature. There are ceremonial objects that are striking representations of the llama. They have a clean, sharp grace that we often associate with "modern" design.

CARVED PIECES

There are ornaments, bracelets, beakers, effigy vessels and a number of utilitarian instruments — such as maces and knives — that have been decorated with carving.

Textiles, too, for the south coast of Peru has a climate which permitted these perishable items to survive. A number of shirts are in the show — long strips of cloth with an opening at mid-point for the head.

The show also contains a selection of tomb posts, described by Miss Smith as "large carved and painted posts of wood, used in burial as symbols of rank, which are thought to be elaborations of agricultural implements."

The posts, painted with resin paint in bright colors, and often trimmed with gold and silver, reached heights well over six feet.

In the figurines, the carvings and stone sculptures, there is a stylization affecting the representations of the body or face. For example, the faces are marked by large noses and hard, double lines around the eyes. Sometimes the stylization is so harsh it approaches caricature.

Use Friendship To Raise Funds

FREEBURG, Ohio (AP) — For 11 years, the women's and men's fellowship of the Freeburg Church of The Brethren have joined forces to make about a thousand jars of apple butter, including some without sugar for those on restricted diets.

The fund-raising project is a family affair, with men, women and children working in the church basement and "apple butter house." They say that "fellowship — people working toward a common goal — is really the important thing" in the project.

Bragan Miscues In World Series

NEW YORK (AP) — Manger Bobby Bragan, in a radio interview before the first game of the World Series, predicted:

That the Yankees would win the World Series in six games and that the Dodgers would score only 9 or 10 runs in six games.

RESULT: The Dodgers won all four games. The new world champions scored 5-2, 4-1, 1-0 and 2-1. That's 12 runs for Los Angeles and four runs for the Yankees.

Even big league managers can't tell.

New Musical Has Big Future

NEW YORK (AP) — If "The Girl Who Came to Supper" draws capacity audiences next season, it will be able to set a new box office weekly gross for White Way playhouses.

The musical starring Florence Henderson and Jose Ferrer, is booked into the Broadway Theater, the largest legit house with 1,788 seats. At a ticket scale of $9.90 for orchestra seats, the potential intake is $101,645.

Several musicals previously have had a $9.90 top, but were in smaller theaters.

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert Lowell, winner of the Pulitzer Prize for poetry in 1947, has written a trilogy of brief plays about incidents in American history under the title "The Old Glory."

The program is scheduled for off-Broadway presentation early in 1964, directed by Jonathan Miller. Until recently a member of the "Beyond the Fringe" company, Miller is concentrating now on several directing assignments and writing.

Cost Of Additions May Exceed Purchase Price Of Older Home

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Women often are attracted to a house for sentimental reasons. They will jump at the chance to buy a house that has charm and one outstanding feature, and so many other drawbacks that it doesn't even make sense. Sometimes there isn't even room for the family.

"We can always add to it," are famous last words that have made some families miserable.

For one thing — you can't always add to it.

And for another — you can't always afford to add to it.

There is a notion among house buyers that if you buy an eight-room house for say $32,000 that you should certainly be able to add additional rooms at less than $4,000 each. This doesn't always work out. Adding to a house can be a rich man's hobby, unless he can get materials at cost and do the work himself, or he lives in an area where labor is very cheap.

People who have had the experience of putting additions to a structure say that they were appalled at the cost. In many cases they found it far better to sell the house and move to a larger one.

There are other reasons for deciding against an addition. If it is tacked on to a tiny house in a tiny-house neighborhood, it may look off base. Many people do not like the big-fish-in-a-little-pond look, so the improvement may not increase the value of the house when the time comes to sell it.

MAY RUIN CHARM

Even if one has lots of land so that he could add without affecting the original appearance of the house, an addition is very serious business. As costs of materials rise, we may not be able to duplicate the look of the old dwelling.

There is a wide margin in bids in the same neighborhoods, in some instances. Local carpenters often work for much less than high-powered contractors with big overhead. Local men have learned how to cut corners, and often are willing to employ ingenuity that can save their neighbors money. But a contractor with a big overhead may make the cost of adding to the house such a financial burden that you can't carry it.

A recent case in point are two houses, one-quarter of a mile from each other.

One addition by a local carpenter was a room 15 by 15 with a closet at a cost of $3,300 and a bathroom at a flat fee of $1,200. The other house had a room 15 x 20 feet, several closets and a de luxe bathroom with built-in-basin and dressing table. The cost — $12,000, half the cost of the original house.

The owner of the more expensive addition admitted that he could never get his money out of the house if he were to sell. But meanwhile the addition conforms to the house and the family loves it.

The less expensive addition was done with wallboard instead of plaster and some other inexpensive features. But it falls into the pattern of the rest of the home.

Whenever there is the remotest idea that the house may not serve in the future unless it has additional rooms, it is well to discuss it with an architect or builder before purchasing it.

This was done recently by a couple who planned to buy a romantic looking little salt box for $26,000 (including four acres of choice land worth around $10,000). The wife talked so much about adding to the little house that her husband finally insisted that she find out for herself how much it would cost.

She wanted to add about 10 x 20 feet to the living room, requiring the removal of an existing wall, making use of a foundation that was laid for a terrace. She was amazed at the estimate of $9,000.

They couldn't swing it, and the woman had to admit that she couldn't be happy with the small living room. They are big people, their furniture is large and her husband finally confessed that the low-beamed ceilings made him feel uncomfortable.

BRING INTERNS FROM EUROPE

By BEN LAIME

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A gathering of the interns at Lutheran Hospital in St. Louis resembles a miniature United Nations.

All 11 interns at Lutheran are foreigners.

Four of them are from the Philippines, three are from Iran, two from India and one each from Cuba and Thailand.

Assistant Hospital Administrator Hilmar Lohmann said the hospital doesn't have anything against Americans, it just can't find them. Lutheran has long been faced with an intern problem because it is not affiliated with a medical school.

Lohmann notes that each year American hospitals have openings for 13,000 interns but U.S. medical schools turn out only about 7,000 graduates a year. When Lutheran began looking for interns this year, it considered only foreign applicants and chose 11 from some 30 applications. They arrived in St. Louis last June.

"The first problem we encountered was communications," said Dr. Desiderio L. Hebron, a graduate of the University of the Philippines. "Americans have their own pronunciations and intonations."

WIFE IS INTERN

His wife, Martha, is also one of the interns. "I don't know if it's the English we learned at home or the slang we are not used to," she said.

These 11 interns had to pass the examinations in English and medicine that have been required since 1960 of all foreigners who wish to become interns or practice medicine in the United States.

A common gripe of the interns is American food.

"It is tasteless, everything is boiled," said one.

The group solved this problem by making its social gatherings a time to try out native dishes on one another.

TORTENS ADD FOREIGN FLAIR TO DESSERTS

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor

What some people like about cooking is that there's always a new cuisine to conquer.

Some of the most interesting foreign desserts are those that come from Austria and of these the most famous are torten. For these, airy cakelike layers — concocted of ground nuts and a few tablespoons of fine dry bread crumbs plus eggs, sugar and flavoring — are sandwiched together and covered with whipped cream.

Here is an up-to-date American version of the nut torte using the comparatively new dry roasted nuts that come in jars. It's okay to bake the torte layers a few days before you plan to serve them. Covered tightly with transparent plastic wrap, they may be kept at room temperature, refrigerated or freezer-stored. The whipped cream for the filling and frosting may be added shortly before offering.

Although the layers of this torte are as light as sponge cake, you'll find small portions

All the interns but one are recent graduates of medical schools. The exception is Dr. Oscar R. Gonzalez, who fled his native Cuba after Fidel Castro came to power.

"I was a surgeon in Havana for seven years but conditions in my homeland would not permit me to practice," he said. When their year of internship is up next June, all but Dr. Gonzalez plan to return to their native lands and practice medicine.

He will settle in the United States, hoping someday to return to his beloved country.

of the dessert are in order if you're serving it at the end of a regular dinner. Make the portions bigger if it's to end a soup-and-salad lunch or supper.

MIXED NUT TORTE
1 tablespoon confectioners' sugar
1 jar (9-1/2 ounces) dry roasted mixed nuts
6 eggs separated
6 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 teaspoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons fine dry bread crumbs
2 cups heavy cream
Grease two 8-inch round layer cake pans; dust lightly with confectioners' sugar. Finely grind enough of the nuts to make 1 1/2 cups; reserve remaining nuts for garnish. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored. Gradually and thoroughly beat in the sugar, about 2 tablespoons at a time. Stir in well the lemon rind, lemon juice, 1 cup of the ground nuts, and the bread crumbs. Beat the egg whites until they hold stiff straight peaks; fold in the egg-yolk mixture. Turn into prepared cake pans. Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven about 40 minutes or until top springs back when touched gently with finger.

Place torte in pans on wire racks to cool completely; loosen edges with spatula and invert, easing out with fingers if necessary. Whip cream until stiff, adding sugar to taste. To one-half of whipped cream, stir in the remaining 1/2 cup ground mixed nuts. Spread remaining whipped cream on top. Garnish top with the remaining whole nuts. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Young Opera Singer Reveals Secret Of Personal Beauty

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Opera singers get lovelier every year.

Why, Gianna d'Angelo was asked.

It may be because they take better care of themselves. They watch their diets, exercise, and feed their skin, says the beautiful soprano.

The statuesque titian-haired American beauty is a perfect example of the new look in opera stars. She resembles a model or movie star than the hard-working singer that she is.

"Opera singers are women too, one must remember. They want to look pretty for their audiences, because today it is not enough just to sing. The audience expects more, and you feel better if you look good," she says.

Gianna with the Italian name is really of English and Yugoslavian descent, born in Hartford, reared in Bristol, Conn., as Jean Angelovich. She made her opera debut in Italy nine years ago when they "were incensed with Yugoslavia over Trieste," she says, so she chose the Italian version of her name.

SANG FOR PRESIDENT

Since her debut she has been so booked up in Europe that Americans have seen little of her. She made her American debut at the Metropolitan Opera two years ago in "Rigoletto," receiving an ovation after her first aria. This season she will do four operas at the Met.

She was chosen to sing for the late President Kennedy at the recent dinner of the Protestant Council of Churches.

MAKES CONCOCTION
Her beautiful skin is due to constant care, she says, as "it is so dry I can't even use soap and water on it," she explains. "For years I've been experimenting with different homemade concoctions."

A yummy one made in the blender is a mixture of yogurt and fresh strawberries. Another is a yogurt and cucumber combination. Both mixtures are blended until they are of a milky consistency. She puts them on her skin for one-half hour and wipes them off with tissue.

Gianna is fond of herbs in foods and in cosmetics, and on one trip Scotland found a herbist who prepares soaps, creams and "energy tonics."

Ingredients sound like a witch's brew. The soaps of slippery elm and marigold are wonderful, she says. The ingredients in other preparations include motherwort and hawthorn. Flowers and herbs are nature's own tonic, Gianna believes, and when she uses these things she "really feels like she has found energy," she says, "though it could be my imagination."

LIKES GREEN, BROWN

She makes herself look even taller than her 5 foot 7½ inches and feels tall girls should do that. One way is in the waist-long hair that she winds around the top of her head. She wears high heels except when she sings with certain short men. "But flat heels are annoying on stage as I trip all over my dress," she says.

Her favorite colors, green and brown are perfect for her coloring — dark eyes, red hair, pale skin.

She never had a weight problem, she says, until about five years ago, and thinks perhaps it is because she doesn't now get enough outdoor exercise at her favorite sports — ice skating and swimming.

"Then I could eat such foods as stuffed cabbage and potato pancakes and never gain an ounce," she says. She is careful to watch her weight now each day.

She does ordinary bend-down routines morning and evening.

Sunday Shows

At Regular Price

NEW YORK (AP) — Alexander H. Cohen is introducing several innovations into Broadway show-going practice this season.

The producer plans to have Sunday performances with the same ticket price scale for matinee and evening. Monday night and Wednesday afternoon showings would be dropped.

The musical "Ragtime," due in February, will initiate the new policy. "Beyond the Fringe" is to shift also. Because of the heavy demands on the key performer, the current "Man and Boy," starring Charles Boyer, and "Hamlet," which arrives with Richard Burton next spring, are to have single Sunday showings.

INVITE LBJ TO SPEAK AT HARRISBURG

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania Democrats are counting on President Johnson to accept an invitation to be the principal speaker at a $100 a plate dinner here next June.

State Democratic Chairman Otis B. Morse told the party's 117-member State Committee Tuesday that the date of the dinner would be set to fit the President's schedule.

Morse said the party expects to sell 5,000 tickets to the dinner to raise $500,000 for the fall election campaign.

52 AT LARGE

At the committee meeting, it was agreed to send 162 delegates to the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City, N.J. Pennsylvania will have 125 votes, requiring the division of full votes among the delegates. In electing 52 delegates-at-large, party leaders erred by nominating former Gov. David L. Lawrence and Mrs. Emma Guiffey Miller, Slippery Rock.

As members of the Democratic National Committee, Lawrence and Mrs. Miller automatically have one vote each for the convention. State Committee officials said the error would be rectified later by the addition of two more names to the list of at-large delegates.

TO MEET FRIDAY

In other action, the State Committee approved resolutions mourning the death of President Kennedy and other party leaders and condemned what it called "Republican wrongdoing in the state government."

The committee's policy unit plans to meet here Friday to select candidates for statewide offices in the April primary election but their selections will have to be ratified later by the full committee.

Have Evidence Of LBJ Budget Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Evidence arrived Tuesday that President Johnson really did cut the federal budget.

The Budget Bureau released the "appendix" to Johnson's fiscal 1965 budget message. The book is 1,165 pages long, a saving of 30 pages from a year ago.

The appendix is, in fact, the budget—the annual blueprint for every dollar of estimated government income and spending. This one weighs over five pounds.

HARRISBURG (AP) — John J. Kelly Jr. of North Hills is the new assistant attorney general for the Department of Public Welfare, succeeding another Montgomery County lawyer, Henry Sklar of Wynocote.

Kelly was named to the $7,772 post Tuesday. He will serve as chief legal counsel for the department. Sklar resigned recently to become a hearing examiner for the Liquor Control Board.

Sentences ranging from 4 to 15 years in prison, the New China News Agency reported today.

Fans Mob Taylor, Burton At Toronto Despite Secrecy

TORONTO (AP) — Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor, traveling without luggage under assumed names, wound up a transcontinental flight to Toronto Tuesday night in all the secrecy of a Hollywood premiere.

Despite elaborate precautions—a hidden limousine, secluded customs inspection, and side-door entrances—hundreds of fans mobbed the couple at the airport and at their downtown hotel.

Burton took one look at the largely teen-age airport crowd and said, "I hope they're all going to see Hamlet."

The Welsh actor begins rehearsals Thursday for a modern dress version of Shakespeare's tragedy.

"IT'S COLD"

Miss Taylor, bundled in a fawn coat, kept repeating, "It's cold." She said she brought six heavy sweaters.

The untanned couple arrived via Chicago from Los Angeles, where they slipped away from reporters under the assumed names of Rosamond Sutherland and Walter Rule.

They left the airport through a special exit to a hidden limousine, but about half of the crowd of 400 got wind of the maneuver and got a glimpse of the departing twosome.

LUGGAGE, DOGS

Burton's secretary, Jim Benton, arrived on a later plane with 15 pieces of luggage and two dogs.

The management of Toronto's King Edward Hotel held a special elevator for them for an hour at a side entrance. Several hundred fans found them there, too.

Seven luxury suites were available, depending on the size of Burton's party, a hotel spokesman said. The choice of accommodations was kept secret, but it was believed to be the vice-regal suite, a five-room, $65-a-day apartment furnished with Louis XV antiques.

The hotel spokesman said the security force had been augmented, but that no other special arrangements had been made.

"This hotel has been in business for 60 years and we're not doing anything different," she said.

Change Of Pace For Qualtinger

NEW YORK (AP) — Helmut Qualtinger, leading Austrian satirist, is planning a change of pace by enacting Henry VIII in Maxwell Anderson's "Anne of the 1,000 Days."

Here for a limited German-language engagement in his "Herr Karl" sketches, Qualtinger said he would tackle the dramatic role in December at Hamburg. He is also writing a play called "The Execution."

The entertainer said it would shock Vienna more than some of his "Herr Karl" lampoons, but declined to reveal the plot.

Actor Group Plans Five Productions

NEW YORK (AP) — A tentative lineup of five productions has been drawn up for this season by the Actors Studio Theater. The enterprise began last season with a hit revival of "Strange Interlude."

The initial offering is to be June Havoc's "Marathon '33." Following at intervals thereafter are to be: James Baldwin's "Blues for Mr. Charlie," Chekhov's "The Three Sisters," John Arden's "Serjeant Musgrave's Dance" and a bill of one-acters starring Paul Newman and Joanne Woodward.

Hot spiced cider makes a fine cold-weather drink. Add about a tablespoon of brown sugar to every cup of cider and for the spices you can use stick cinnamon, whole cloves and allspice. If you tie the spice in a cheesecloth bag you won't have to do any straining before serving.

Moving, Restoring Paintings Require Expert Attention

BY VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Our cultural fling is likely to create all sort of new problems such as how one transports paintings from one home to another.

Paintings can arrive in top-notch condition if properly packed whether moved in family car or moving van, says Miss Jean Volker, who restores paintings for the Museum of Modern Art in New York. But there is another thought — can you move them to the new dwelling?

Matisse's "Dance," which Miss Volker restored recently, does not fit into the museum's elevators. The 12½ by 8½ foot canvas must be carried up and down stairs. And it is heavy. In many homes stair landings are narrow, even for the smallest paintings to be moved safely, so it is a good idea to check a new home if paintings are valuable.

Miss Volker has just been involved in the movement of many paintings. Recently 153 were shipped to the National Gallery in Washington in three shipments. She was on hand to make sure the paintings were still in good condition when they were unwrapped and to dust them with her four-inch badger hair brush, "better than cloths or feather dusters," she says.

DAMAGE BY BUMP

"A little bump on the road can do a bit of damage to a painting that isn't packed and placed properly for the trip," she points out. The museum uses the sandwich pack method as a rule — pads made of excelsior in wrapping paper or of foam rubber at the corners to cushion the painting. Fiberboard is put completely over the frame in front. "It is anchored with rope that must be snipped in six places to be removed," she says.

The foam rubber is sort of a tringle sleeve that was first noted on paintings arriving from Europe, Miss Volker says. A square is folded so that it is sealed over the ends and acts as a good shock absorber, whereas excelsior must be stapled to the frame.

When paintings are being moved from the wall, the time is excellent for cleaning and restoration. In the museum's case, paintings that may be the heart of a collection can't be moved just any time.

EXPERT ATTENTION

Modern paintings especially require professional cleaning, she points out. It is definitely not a job for amateurs. "There are many solvents available but tests are necessary to know the paint. We work with the artists and know pretty much what to use. We often use water, but lots of paints dissolve in water. Then too, paintings take years to dry, even if one feels dry to the touch. There may be parts that are still responsive to solvents," she points out.

That's one reason artists shouldn't varnish a canvas until it is about a year old. Varnish can combine with the paint, she says.

People shouldn't roll paintings to store them. That's what Matisse did to "Dance," and "paint cracked in it in a great number of places," she says. "We give it a wax lining, an additional canvas coated with a wax resin, an adhesive that penetrates cracks and paint film."

HEAT IS INJURIOUS

A fireplace is not good for paintings, something to remember if it is the only likely place for a work of art. Glass could be used over the painting, Miss Volker points out, but since some air space is required, glass could act as sort of a flue, and be even worse for the painting.

Books such as Carolyn Keck's "How to Take Care of Your Pictures," available at museums, make ideal references, Miss Volker points out.

Older paintings may be cleaned at home without too much risk. Though in Europe people use potatoes and breadcrumbs, "it probably takes a lot of doing," Miss Volker says. At the Metropolitan Museum of Art, where paintings are used for cleaning paintings, says Murry Pease, curator of the Technical Laboratory there. An effective method for removal of superficial grime may be done with gasoline-type dry cleaning fluid applied with absorbent cotton or a soft brush, a tiny area at a time. Or a cream-type good quality wax emulsion furniture polish may be used. If either technique is employed, the cleaner must be wiped off immediately.

He cautions against the home-spun remedies, such as soap and household cleaners or hanging paintings near radiators.

"While heat itself is not harmful to paintings, dry heat of winter is. A uniform relative humidity of 50 per cent is the most desirable," he says. "For minor or major repairs, use a museum-recommended professional restorer," Pease says.

Scotch Collection Defies Thirsty Man

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Monty Want claims his 47 bottles of different brands of Scotch whiskey is this country's most unique collection. All the bottles are full.

Want, who lives in Natal Province, started his collection in 1944. Over the years he collected in South Africa alone 53 different brands, but he gave a few away to friends.

He has the collection insured against fire and theft and he keeps it under lock and key. He can't get an insurance organization to give him protection against the hazards of thirst.

Want has all the well-known brands, but some in his collection are unknown to even old Scotch hands in the whiskey business here — Lauder's, Abbot's Choice, Whyte and Mackay's Imperial Institute, Ye Monks, Grabbies, Grouse and Lindsay's.

What is Want planning to do with it all? "I don't know," he says. "Probably drink it in the end."

Religion Faces Moral Failure

CINCINNATI (AP) — Unless Protestant churches and families develop a program of Christian education involving perhaps three hours a week by children attending regularly and working under qualified teachers, "there will be no next generation, religiously speaking," a Methodist pastor contends.

The Rev. David Sageser of Clifton Methodist Church says further that a strange development is the willingness of "our Protestant people to invest large sums in the erection of imposing education buildings, the work of which they are unwilling to support by any kind of funds or personal involvement."

Art Museum Trains Young Visitors

LOUISVILLE (AP) — The J. B. Speed Art Museum not only welcomes school children — it is training them to visit museums.

The museum arranged for volunteers to visit schools in advance of scheduled trips to show slides and explain to the children what they are going to see.

Director Addison Franklin Page gave this explanation for the novel program:

"One of the biggest beefs of museum people has been that school groups would come in with no background. Teachers felt the visits were a bit of fluff. Everybody was generally dissatisfied."

Page believes the training program is a first for museums.

Church To Study Union Centers

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A study of church responsibility toward labor unions will be the first project undertaken by the Conference and Research Center of Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville.

Church officials explained labor unions were not an area of concern as long as the Southern Baptist Convention was a church of the rural South. In recent years, the denomination has grown in New York, Detroit and other urban centers where unions play a major role.

The new center is sponsored by the Southern Baptist Foundation, which hopes its supporters eventually will include 1,000 associates.

Research in social problems and church renewal will wait until the foundation has more funds and a full-time staff.

PROBLEMS OF RENEWAL

NEW YORK (AP) — "The government calls it 'urban renewal' but we know it only as demolition," writes Dorothy Day, editor of the Catholic Worker. In a new book, "Loaves and Fishes" (Harper), she says: "Slums are constantly being torn down to make way for housing projects which the poor can't afford to live in, and there aren't enough places left for them to go."

IT FELL ALL RIGHT

BOYNTON BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A youth in the city recreation program fired an arrow into the air. It resulted in a claim for damages against the city and transfer of the program to a new park.

The arrow, it seems, came to earth perforating an awning at the home of Arthur Hartwig.

On The House

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

First-time home owners are often understandably confused by the many legal and technical real estate words and terms tossed around before and during purchases.

Even some of the most common words need clarification for those unfamiliar with property transactions. A real estate broker recently told us, "I am constantly amazed at how many persons, considering the purchase of a house for the first time, do not have a clear idea of what a mortgage is."

A mortgage is simply an agreement in writing which gives the lender a lien upon a certain property as security for the payment of a specified debt. In this particular area, it says, in effect, that the mortgage may take over the home if the buyer fails to keep up his payments. After the house has been sold, and the debt and the expenses deducted, the mortgagor (the person who obtained the loan) receives the balance, if any.

When a mortgage is insured by the Federal Housing Administration, the lender is guaranteed that he will get back his money even if the sale of the house fails to return an amount equal to the loan.

PREPAY LOAN

A prepayment clause gives the mortgagor the right to pay his loan before it becomes due. Such clauses usually impose some kind of financial penalties for prepayments, but these are far less than the interest costs would be if the loan were paid according to the original terms.

Joint Tenancy is the ownership of real estate by two or more persons, each of whom has an undivided interest with the right of survivorship. This latter phrase means that the surviving owner succeeds to the share of the deceased owner.

Tenancy by the Entirety is similar to Joint Tenancy except that it exists only between husband and wife, with equal right of possession as well as the right of survivorship.

Tenancy in Common is the ownership of real estate by two or more persons, each of whom has an undivided interest. There is no right of survivorship.

SALES COMMISSION

An open listing is the placement of your property with a number of brokers whereby the first to make the sale is entitled to the commission.

A multiple listing is the placement of your property with members of a Real Estate Board of Exchange whereby the commission on the sale is divided, usually between the broker who had the initial listing and the broker who makes the sale.

An exclusive listing is the placement of your property with a single broker for a specified period of time, during which period no one except him can receive the commission. In return

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Grace Cole described a Japanese-made automobile in such glowing terms — "smooth Oriental beauty with solid Occidental practicality" — that she won a trip to Japan as a prize.

Minister Dresses To Suit Weather

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — An Anglican clergyman at Nelspruit, east of Johannesburg, has bravely confessed that in this country's frequent hot weather he wears shorts, instead of the more customary black pants, under his cassock.

Now the Rev. R. E. V. Taylor is encouraging members of his congregation to wear cool clothes on warm Sundays because he believes comfortably clad church-goers can give more sincere attention to their devotions.

The dean of Johannesburg, the Rt. Rev. P. H. F. Barron, who supports Taylor, said: "Some of my congregation come to church in sports clothes. I'd rather they came dressed like that than not come to church at all."

The Johannesburg Rand Daily Mail commented editorially that some churchgoers may have suspected that Taylor's practice is much more widespread than is generally acknowledged in ecclesiastical circles, but said it is rare for a cleric to admit it.

Say Education Key To Cutting Cigarette Sales To Minors In This State

By DAVE LEHERR
Associated Press Writer
HARRISBURG (AP) — Atty. Gen. Walter E. Alessandrini said today statewide enforcement of Pennsylvania's ban on cigarette sales to minors would be a difficult task.

"But," he added quickly in an interview, "we think much can be done in the field of local enforcement and education."

Alessandrini said he plans to meet with Gov. Scranton and State Health Secretary Charles L. Wilbar in the near future to discuss the problem.

ASKS CRACKDOWN

Wilbar called on the Justice Department last Friday to crack down on the sale of cigarettes to boys and girls under 21 in the light of a recent report on smoking by the U.S. Surgeon General's Office.

"There is ample evidence now that cigarette smoking causes lung cancer," noted Wilbar. "But any minor can insert coins, pull a lever and get cigarettes in Pennsylvania."

Alessandrini said he has not yet reached a final determination on the matter, but the "law seems sort of an empty gesture."

NOW AGAINST LAW

"We couldn't possibly police every store and cigarette vending machine on a statewide basis," he declared. "But maybe the local district attorneys, police and school systems working together can come up with the answers on a local level."

Sale of cigarettes to minors is specifically prohibited under the state penal code.

Anyone caught selling cigarettes to minors is subject to a $25 fine and/or 30 days in jail for the first offense, a $100 fine and/or 30 days in jail for the second offense, and a $500 fine and/or one year imprisonment for each subsequent offense.

COURT OFFENSE

Youngsters 16 years of age and over caught smoking, but refusing to tell where they obtained the cigarettes, are subject to a $5 fine and/or five days in jail. Those under 16 are to be turned over to juvenile court.

Alessandrini said the problem is primarily a matter of education.

"If we can convince young people not to smoke until they are 21, chances are they will never take up the habit," he theorized.

TO POST NOTICES

The attorney general also said an effort would be made to enforce regulations calling for the posting of notices on vending machines and in stores warning minors against buying cigarettes.

Another possibility suggested by Alessandrini would be for the Revenue Department to use its facilities to notify dealers and small store operators that it is illegal to sell cigarettes to minors.

Sale of cigarettes have been banned in the state's four tuberculosis hospitals, and Wilbar has asked airlines to discontinue the practice of handing out sample cigarettes.

Pennsylvania

Gov. Scranton plans to call a special session of the General Assembly next week to take up unemployment compensation Project 70 and other items. Administration aides say the special session will run concurrently with the regular session considering the governor's proposed $1.168 billion budget.

Representatives of the Departments of Mines, Commerce, and Internal Affairs and of the Historical and Museum Commission go before the legislature today to ask for over $8.6 million with which to operate in fiscal 1964-65. This is about a quarter of a million less than they are spending in the current fiscal year.

Atty. Gen. Walter Alessandrini says statewide enforcement of Pennsylvania's ban on cigarette sales to minors would be a difficult task. He believes local authorities should take the bulk of the responsibility.

The Project 70 bond issue last November, but 47 of the state's 67 counties were opposed.

The question now is how the representatives of these 47 counties will vote on enabling legislation for the program.

Eminent domain, giving the state the right to take over private property for public use in the public interest, is directly tied in with Project 70.

Reichley said the Scranton reforms would liberalize payments to property owners and make the existing law more uniform.

COLD WEATHER IS GOOD TIME TO FIX WALLS

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Do-it-yourselfers looking for cold weather indoor projects might consider improving beat-up walls in neglected areas — stairway, stair landings, foyers.

Walls with their cracks, bumps and gouges are often rejected as projects when they are not in the living areas of the house. But these walls can be made an asset to the entire house and easily rejuvenated with a minimum of time and money.

Tearing out the entire wall is a big nuisance to the household, a dirty task for the do-it-yourselfer who must breathe in old plaster and a headache to the homemaker who must live with the mess. It is an expense no matter what course is pursued when a wall is torn out and replaced. New lath and even additional new studs often are required, insulation, plaster or plasterboard and taping, and then the finish — paint or wall-covering — can chew up several hundred dollars.

An alternative that can be less expensive and eliminate the mess involves putting up either a finished plywood — walnut, teak, birch, etc. — or an ordinary plywood and covering it with one of the marvelous new wallcoverings.

Furring strips may be put up, plywood and then a finished decorative material to bring the cost down considerably. In addition, the handsome covering used can set a charm theme for the entire house.

BURLAP COVERING

The gold color is exactly right for his English antiques, paintings and other treasures and the cost of the material used was negligible.

The burlap was put up with a special adhesive and attached with staples at sides to establish evenness. This burlap is laminated to a backing which is then coated with the adhesive before application.

Deep red is another effective staircase wall covering, with either contemporary or modern furnishings.

There are narrow and wide-striped tickings, and more elegant fabric coverings — linens, brocades, grass cloth and moires. There are vinyl laminated and coated xurlap that defy grubby hands. They are scrubable and scuff resistant. These permit the use of light colors and white on walls and stairways.

WALL PANELING
Wall paneling can upgrade old bumpy living room walls. A good rich finish can be achieved, too, by using a rich color above a wainscoting of warm-tone paneled wood.

Dark colors can flatter a small living room. If the proper balance is used — dark wood along with a rich color and can be truly amazing. The warmth of wood can help make the room cozier than any other decorating scheme.

studied carefully before it is used. The proper textures and accent colors must accompany dark wood. Burlap is a good choice, providing the color chosen is not muddy. White wainscoting is an excellent choice for a small room, using yellow, vibrant blue or red paper or burlap above it. One is helped in the choice of this laminated burlap because colors available are beautiful. It is difficult to make a wrong decision, unless it is in the harmony of other furnishings in the room.
